HALL, BOLTON

If not rightly understood, this development brings anxiety and disturbances of sleep.

The Bibelot

A REPRINT OF POETRY AND PROSE FOR BOOK-LOVERS CHOSEN IN PART FROM SCARCE EDITIONS AND SOURCES NOT GENERALLY KNOWN

THE completion of The Bibelot in twenty volumes permits its editor to set forth the point of view he has had from the start and to indicate what in his opinion the complete set, viewed as a whole, should appear to those who now come upon it in its entirety. If The Bibelot means anything it means definitely an aid to self-culture in literature and is based upon the underlying spirit of beauty as expressed in literature: in other words the "things that perish never," not only as seen in the classics or well known works of any age or of any writer, but which are discoverable in scarce editions and rescued from sources not generally known.

The contents of The Bibelot possesses unity of purpose: it represents what I have personally accepted as specimens of the finer spirit,—what I have individually felt as making the deepest impression upon myself. To each subject chosen a foreword has been prefixed which, with critical and bibliographical notes, constitutes the strongest claim for the enduring worth of these twenty volumes. Only an intimacy with The Bibelot as a whole can establish my claim that in these pages there is that which makes for the widest self development.

TO THE BOOKSELLER

YOUR attention is called to an editorial entitled "Installment Retail Bookselling" in The Publishers' Weekly for June 12, 1915, based upon an article in Printers' Ink, March 25, 1915, Selling on Installments, by Edward Mott Woolley. With this in mind it would not be hard to find out what could be done with your clientéle in the matter of selling sets of The Bibelot on the deferred payment plan.

Complete sets of The Bibelot are limited to 500 all told and the type has been distributed. When I made this announcement last fall I could scarcely have expected the demand that has arisen and which at this present date leaves me with less than 300 sets unsold.

In view of the above statements I am prepared to make arrangements to sell to the trade on the deferred plan these sets of The Bibelot and pay a cash commission for all orders sent me, and to assume the risk of monthly collections myself. The booksellers' responsibility would end when he had selected such buyers as in his best judgment could be relied upon to meet their obligations.

It seems to me that coöperation of this sort should meet with a cordial reception at your hands for, in the words of Mr. Woolley, "I believe that we retailers are neglecting a great opportunity by not selling generally on installments. The book market is very elastic. We could sell four times the number of books that we do sell, and get our pay for them. . . . . Books are a luxury. Nearly everyone would like to own some, to have a 'library.' Because books can be bought piece-meal the psychological effect of buying many on the installment plan has been overlooked. It isn't merely paying a little at a time: it is being obliged to pay a little every little while that swells installment sales."

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE CONTENTS OF THE BIBELOT. SEE PP. 17–20 OF THIS LIST

WHY IS THE

MANUAL OF PRAYERS

The Best Catholic Prayer Book

FIRST—Because it was compiled by order of all the BISHOPS OF THE UNITED STATES IN THE THIRD PLENARY COUNCIL.

The question of issuing a STANDARD CATHOLIC PRAYER BOOK was deemed to be of such importance that the Council gave it into the charge of a Special Committee—to men of knowledge, of age and experience, with the late Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, as chairman.

SECOND—It is the result of their knowledge and experience. They actually put it together. Of what other prayer book can that be said?

THIRD—It received the Imprimatur or approval of Cardinal Gibbons, who presided at the Council, and of every Archbishop and Bishop who attended.

Here, then, you have the benefit of the knowledge and experience of all the Bishops of the United States.

Naturally such a book, the premier prayer-book of the English speaking world, deserves the best that the printers' and binders' art can give, and we submit the "MANUAL OF PRAYERS" as the best prayer-book in all respects that is published.

IT IS ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED BY

Cardinals Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell

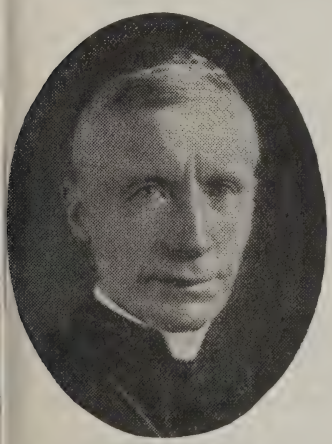
And Endorsed By Every Archbishop and Bishop in the United States



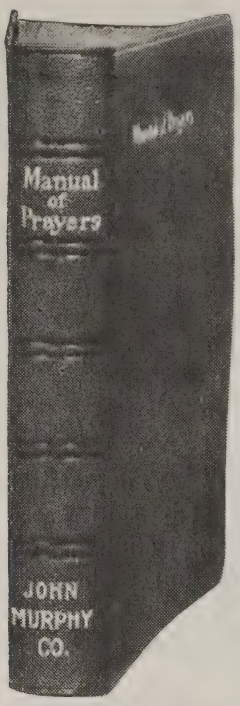
Cardinal Gibbons Says:

408 N. CHARLES ST.
BALTIMORE

"I urge upon all Catholics the use of the MANUAL OF PRAYERS, the Prayer Book authorized by the last Plenary Council of Baltimore."

J. Card Gibbons

What Other Books Do You Find, That Catholics Are Officially Urged to Use?



MANUAL OF PRAYERS

To correct errors found in many Catholic Prayer Books this Manual was prepared, by order of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore.

Each page in proof-sheets was submitted to all the Bishops of the country and by them approved. Being the only Prayer Book having this high endorsement, it will take the place, as the Council intended it should, of the various Prayer Books heretofore used.

It is universally conceded that the Fathers of the late Council have in this book given to their people the best expression of Catholic devotion to be found in the English language.

SOME NOTABLE ENDORSEMENTS

The Manual of Prayers, compiled in accordance with the decrees of the Plenary Council o Baltimore, is a very creditable work, both in point of form and matter. I warmly recommen its use to the faithful of this Diocese.

Rt. Rev. M. A. CORRIGAN, Late Archbishop of New York.

It gives me great gratification to pronounce the work to be, beyond all comparison, th most complete prayer book in the English language. Independently of its utility as a manua of prayers, it will be found invaluable as a book of reference and instruction, containing ad mirable translations of the most important portions of the Liturgy of the Church. To priest it will be for this reason very useful in explaining the doctrines and ceremonies of the Sacra ments and Sacramentals. Rt. Rev. P. J.RYAN, Late Archbishop of Philadelphia.

It is indeed gratifying to have at last a book of common prayer for the Catholic laity o the United States, recommended and approvedby the American hierarchy. Certainly no fur ther recommendation is necessary, and I earnestly trust that, as it is the most authoritativ prayer book ever published in this country, it may speedily supersede all others now in use, an find its way into the hands of all the faithful.

Rt. Rev. MAURICE F. BURKE, Bishop of St. Joseph.

Sound doctrine is the basis of all solid piety. The Manual instructs whilst it feeds th soul with holy inspirations and teaches how to pray. Nothing that a good prayer book shoul contain seems to have been omitted. Your part of the labor will meet the approval o all who appreciate taste and art in book-making. I trust the Manual will soon be in universa use. Rt. Rev. LEO HAID, Vic. Apos. of North Carolina.

The Catholic laity have now a complete and authoritative translation of the Latin te of the sublime prayers used by the Church in the administration of the Sacraments, the cele bration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, the Vesper Service, the devotion to the Eucharisti God, etc. They cannot fail to grow in solid Catholic piety when reading attentively and rev erently the beautiful word-forms consecrated by the ecclesiastical usage of centuries, and en dorsed for ages by the living authority of God's Church.

Rt. Rev. CAMILLUS PAUL MAES, Late Bishop of Covington.

In addition to the above we have received many letters of commen dation from the Clergy and Laity.

338 THANKSGIVING AFTER COMMUNION.

Thine own the whole powers of my soul, my memory, my intellect, and all my will. All that I am, and all that I have, Thou hast bestowed upon me: therefore I give back all to Thee, and surrender it to be wholly governed by Thy sovereign will. Grant me but grace to love Thee alone, and I am rich enough and ask no more.

Here may be said the Tantum Ergo (p. 222), the Lauda Sion (p. 632), the Pange Lingua (p. 627), or any other Hymn in honor of the Blessed Sacrament.

A PRAYER (i)

*To which Pope Pius VII. has annexed a Plenary Indulgence, which all the faithful may obtain who, after having confessed their sins with contrition, and received the Holy Communion, shall devoutly recite it before an image or representation of Christ crucified.

Behold, O kind and most sweet Jesus, I cast myself upon my knees in Thy sight, and with the most fervent desire of my soul I pray and beseech Thee that Thou wouldst impress upon my heart lively sentiments of Faith, Hope, and Charity, with true repentance for my sins, and a firm desire of amendment, whilst with deep affection and grief of soul I ponder within myself and mentally contemplate Thy five most precious Wounds: having before my eyes that which David spake in prophecy: They have pierced my hands and feet; they have numbered all my bones.

* Add five Our Fathers and five Hail Marys, for the intentions of the Holy Father. (S. Cong. Indulg., July 31, 1858.)

ST. VINCENT'S MANUAL

ORIGINALLY PREPARED FOR THE USE OF THE SISTERS OF CHARITY IN THE UNITED STATES

966 Pages. 16 Mo. Size 3¾ x 5½ Inches.

The universal popularity of this MANUAL among the Reverend Clergy and the people of this country—which has steadily increased from its first appearance—renders it needless to enlarge upon its merits here. Originally prepared for use of the Sisters of Charity, it became not only their ordinary manual, but that of many thousands of pious Catholics throughout the land.

Many devotions not usually found in prayer books have been included in this edition, such as the prayers of BONA MORS, MEDITATIONS FOR EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR, THE SCAPULAR, THE LIVING ROSARY, THE MONTH OF MAY, etc., etc., making it complete, accurate and convenient.

44 PRAYERS AT MASS.

Prayers at Mass.

A DEVOUT METHOD OF HEARING MASS.

Making the sign of the Cross with the Priest, say,

IN the name of the Father, ✠ and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

I will draw near to Thy altar, O my God, there to gain new strength and vigor to my soul; separate me from those unbelievers who have no trust in Thee; grant me that grace which comforts me when the remembrance of my sins afflicts and casts me down; that grace which lets me know there is an everlasting refuge in Thy goodness, and that Thou art ready to forgive even our greatest sins upon a sincere repentance.

THE BENEDICTION.

Receive this blessing from the priest as being given you in the name of the Lord. Thank Him sincerely for the favors here granted you; lay up with care the fruits of this Sacrifice, and let your conduct be such that all who see you may clearly perceive how much you have profited by so holy an action.

MOST holy and adorable Trinity! by Thee we have begun this sacrifice, by Thee we desire to conclude it; we therefore shall not leave Thee, until Thou bless us. Give us, O Lord! Thy blessing, by the hands of this priest; may it ever remain with us; may it influence our actions, and be the sure pledge of that last benediction, which Thy elect shall receive, when called by Thee into Eternal glory.

THE LAST GOSPEL.

DIVINE Word, only Son of the Father, Light of the world! who camest from Heaven to show us the way to it, I adore Thy Majesty with the most profound respect. I place

THE BEGINNING OF MASS.

In the name of the Father, ✠ and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

The Following of Christ.

FIRST BOOK.

USEFUL ADMONITIONS FOR A SPIRITUAL LIFE.

CHAPTER 1.

OF FOLLOWING CHRIST, AND DESPISING ALL THE VANITIES OF THE WORLD.

"HE that followeth me, walketh not in darkness," saith our Lord. (John 8. 12.) These are the words of Christ, by which we are admonished that we must imitate His life and manners, if we would be truly enlightened, and delivered from all blindness of heart.

Let it then be our chief study to meditate on the life of Jesus Christ.

2. The doctrine of Christ surpasseth all the doctrines of the saints; and whosoever hath the Spirit, will find therein a hidden manna.

But it happeneth that many, by frequent hearing the gospel, are very little affected; because they have not the Spirit of Christ.

my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations.

5 Neither shall thy name be called any more Abram: but thou shalt be called Abraham: because I have made thee a father of many nations.

6 And I will make thee increase, exceedingly, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee.

7 And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and between thy seed after thee in their generations, by a perpetual covenant: to be a God to thee, and to thy seed after thee.

8 And I will give to thee, and to thy seed, the land of thy sojournment, all the land of Chanaan for a perpetual possession, and I will be their God.

9 Again God said to Abraham: ℣ And thou therefore shalt keep my covenant, and thy seed after thee in their generations.

for a perpetual covenant, and with his seed after him.

20 And as for Ismael I have also heard thee. Behold, I will bless him, and increase, and multiply him exceedingly: he shall beget twelve chiefs, and I will make him a great nation.

21 But my covenant I will establish with Isaac, whom Sara shall bring forth to thee at this time in the next year.

22 And when he had left off speaking with him, God went up from Abraham.

23 And Abraham took Ismael his son, and all that were born in his house: and all whom he had bought, every male among the men of his house: and he circumcised the flesh of their foreskin forthwith the very same day, as God had commanded him.

24 Abraham was ninety and nine when he circumcised the

THE

BOOK OF EXODUS.

The Second Book of MOSES is called EXODUS, from the Greek word EXODOS, which signifies going out: because it contains the history of the going out of the children of Israel out of Egypt. The Hebrews, from the words with which it begins, call it VEELLE SEMOTH: These are the names. It contains transactions for 145 years; that is, from the death of Joseph to the erecting of the tabernacle.

CHAPTER 1.

The Israelites are multiplied in Egypt. They are oppressed by a new king, who commandeth all their male children to be killed.

THESE are the names of the children of Israel, that went into Egypt with Jacob: they went in, every man with his household:

2 Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Juda,
3 Issachar, Zabulon, and Benjamin,
4 Dan, and Nephtali, Gad and Aser.

8 In the mean time there arose a new king over Egypt, that knew not Joseph:

9 And he said to his people: Behold the people of the children of Israel are numerous and stronger than we.

10 Come, let us wisely oppress them, lest they multiply: and if any war shall rise against us, join with our enemies, and having overcome us, depart out of the land.

Tell the vision to no man, till the Son of man be risen from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying: [i] Why then do the scribes say that Elias must come first?

11 But [j] he answering, said to them: Elias indeed shall come, and restore all things.

12 But I say to you, [k] that Elias is already come, and they knew him not, [l] but have done unto him whatsoever they had a mind. So also the Son of man shall suffer from them.

13 Then the disciples understood, that he had spoken to them of John the Baptist.

14 [m] And when he was come to the multitude, there came to him a man falling down on his knees before him, saying:

15 Lord, have pity on my son, for he is a lunatic, and suffereth much: for he falleth often into the fire, and often into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

16 Then Jesus answered and said: O unbelieving and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

17 And Jesus rebuked him, and the devil went out of him, and the child was cured from that hour.

18 Then came the disciples to Jesus secretly, and said: Why could not we cast him out?

19 Jesus said to them: Because of your unbelief. For, amen I say to you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you shall say to this mountain, Remove from hence hither, and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible to you.

20 But this kind is not cast out but by prayer and fasting.

21 And when they abode together in Galilee, Jesus said to them: [o] The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

22 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall rise again. And they were troubled exceedingly.

23 And when they were come to Capharnaum, they that received the didrachmas, came to Peter and said to him: Doth not your master pay the didrachmas?

24 He said: Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying: What is thy opinion, Simon? The kings of the earth, of whom do they receive tribute or custom? of their own children, or of strangers?

25 And he said: Of strangers. Jesus said to him: Then the children are free.

26 But that we may not scandalize them, go to the sea, and cast in a hook: and that fish which shall first come up, take: and when thou hast opened its mouth, thou shalt find a stater: take that, and give it to them for me and thee.

CHAPTER 18.

Christ teaches humility, to beware of scandal, and to flee the occasions of sin: to denounce to the church incorrigible sinners, and to look upon such as refuse to hear the church as heathens. He promises to his disciples the power of binding and loosing: and that he will be in the midst of their assemblies. No forgiveness for them that will not forgive.

AT [p] that hour the disciples came to Jesus, saying: Who thinkest thou is the greater in the kingdom of heaven?

2 [q] And Jesus calling unto him a little child, set him in the midst of them,

3 And said: Amen I say to you, [r] unless you be converted, and become as little children, you shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, he is the greater in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And he that shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

6 [s] But he that shall scandalize one of these little ones that believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe to the world because of scandals.

[CHAP. XI. JUDITH. CHAP. XI.]

12 And she answered: I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I am fled from them, because I knew they would be made a prey to you, because they despised you, and would not of their own accord yield themselves, that they might find mercy in your sight.

13 For this reason I thought with myself, saying: I will go to the presence of the prince Holofernes, that I may tell him their secrets, and shew him by what way he may take them, without the loss of one man of his army

14 And when the men had heard her words, they beheld her face, man, that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor the king.

2 And if thy people, had not despised me, I would never have lifted up my spear against them.

3 But now tell me, for what cause hast thou left them, and why it hath pleased thee to come to us?

4 And Judith said to him: Receive the words of thy handmaid, for if thou wilt follow the words of thy handmaid, the Lord will do with thee a perfect thing.

5 For as Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth liveth, and his power liveth which is in thee for chastising of all straying souls: not only men

Important Neale Publications

New catalogue on request. For twenty years the Neale publications have been famous throughout the civilized world. Among them are books of history, biography, reminiscence, science, essays, politics, travel, fiction, poetry, religion, juvenile, and pure literature. To this great library of literature important works frequently are being added. Our new catalogue will be sent postpaid on request.

Thomas Nelson Page, American Ambassador to Italy, author of "Marse Chan," "Red Rock," and other books: "There is no publisher whose publications interest me more and whose books I have bought in the last few years a greater number of."

William E. Chancellor, Ph.D., author of "The United States," in ten volumes, and other important works; formerly lecturer in Johns Hopkins University and in the University of Chicago, and formerly Superintendent of Public Schools in the District of Columbia: "The Neale Publishing Company to-day represents high-water mark in America for its historical works. Upon its list are to be found the best books upon each and every side of the common issues of our public life. Such is the authority of the list considered as an entirety as to lend lustre to each separate title, creating a presumption in its favor."

Toronto Mail and Empire: "The Neale Publishing Company possesses a rare reputation for its standard series of works on American history."

Gen. Randolph K. Evans, U. S. A., Commanding the Department of the East, with headquarters at Governor's Island: "I appreciate the value of your work for American literature in general, and especially what you have done as a military missionary in publishing books, which many other publishers would have rejected, with a view to increasing military comprehension among our people,—an important part of governmental knowledge in regard to which a great majority of our people sit in outer darkness and blissful ignorance."

R. N. Wall, in the Richmond Evening Journal: "I do not think that I have ever seen one of Neale's books that I did not covet, aside from its subject matter, simply as a beautiful thing."

Philip Alexander Bruce, LL.D., author of "Economic History of Virginia in the Seventeenth Century," "Institutional History of Virginia in the Seventeenth Century," and Corresponding Secretary Virginia Historical Society, in the Richmond Times-Dispatch: "This volume of selected verse ['Masterpieces of the Southern Poets'] is but one of numerous books distinctly Southern for which we are indebted to The Neale Publishing Company. That firm deserves the grateful appreciation of every true native Southerner. . . . Many a fine volume of poetry, racy of the Southern soil, bears the Neale imprint; above all, many a volume of war recollections worth its weight in gold. . . . They already form one of the most important series of Southern writings extant."

Professor Raymond Weeks, Department of Romance Languages, Columbia University: "Since about the time I received your catalog (the most fascinating American catalog I hav seen) I hav intended riting to express my appreciation of what you hav accomplisht for letters in this country."

This "fascinating" catalogue for the asking

THE American Standard Bible brings the plain reader more closely into contact with the exact thought of the sacred writers than any other version now current in Christendom. —From the Revisers' Preface.

IT is a noble work, destined to become the accepted Bible of the majority of the Anglo-Saxon race; and we are tempted to wish that it might be adopted as the one final revision of the English-speaking world.—London Quarterly Review.

The Concise Bible Dictionary supplies in the most condensed and convenient form all the latest information about the Bible, its writers, its language, the various Versions, complete Chronology, Life of Christ with Harmony of the Gospels, Life and Travels of St. Paul, etc.
For Specimen see page 9.

A NEW CONCORDANCE. Subject-Index. Pronouncing Dictionary of Scripture Proper Names, diacritically marked for their pronunciation according to the latest revision of Webster's International Dictionary, with meaning. The ox was used by the Jews for ploughing, treading out the corn in threshing, and for draught, and was only killed for sacrifices and for great feasts. Cows' milk was used, both fresh and slightly curdled, and also churned into butter, or in the form of curds, often called "butter" in Scripture. In the Jordan valley the Indian buffalo has been introduced, probably from Persia, in post-Exilian times.

CEDAR [çē'dar] of Lebanon grows also on the Taurus and Atlas Mountains. It was the king of trees (1 Kings 4. 33), the symbol of grandeur, might, loftiness, and ever-increasing expansion. Its wood was used in the successive temples at Jerusalem and in the palace of Nebuchadrezzar. The cedar of Lev. 14. 4 and Num. 19. 6 is probably an aromatic juniper.

CENCHREA [çĕn'chre-à]. [See CORINTH.]

CHALCEDONY [chăl-çed'ō-nў] (Gr. chalkedon), Rev. 21. 19. One of the many varieties of minutely crystalline silica, of a light, often milky, color, related to agate (q.v.).

CHALDÆA [chăl-dē'à], the plain of Babylon, or Lower Mesopotamia; once a very fertile land, now a barren, sandy desert. One of its great cities was "Ur of the Chaldees."

CHALDÆANS [chăl-dē'ans]. [See BABYLONIA.]

CHALDEE [chal'dee]. [See ARAMAIC.]

CHAMELEON [chà-mē'lē-ŏn]. [See LIZARD.]

CHAMOIS [chăm'ois, shăm'mў] (A. V. and R. V., Heb. "the leaper," Deut. 14. 5), the mouffion, or wild sheep.

CHARIOT [chăr'ĭ-ŏt] (Gen. 41. 43). The Israelites were familiar with chariots, as used by their enemies (Egyptians, Ex. 14. 25; Canaanites, Judg. 4. 3), long before they had them themselves. But David (2 Sam. 8. 4) and Solomon (1 Kings 10. 26) introduced both chariots and horses in ever-increasing numbers. They were two-wheeled vehicles, curved in front and open behind, in which two men could ride, one of whom drove (1 Kings 22. 34), while the other fought with bow or spear.

HORSE AND CHARIOT.

CHEDORLAOMER [chĕd'or-lā'o-mer]. [See ABRAHAM.]

CHEMOSH [chē'mŏsh], the god of the Moabites. [See MOABITE STONE.]

CHERUB [chĕr'ŭb] (plural CHERUBIM), a symbolical winged creature with a human face, associated in Scripture with the throne or chariot of Jehovah (Ps. 18. 10; 80. 1; 99. 1). In Gen. 3. 24 cherubim appear as the guardians of the approach to the tree of life. Two cherubim were placed on the mercy-seat or covering of the ark of the covenant in the Tabernacle and in the Temple, and figures representing cherubim were wrought into the hangings of the Holy of Holies. In Ezekiel's description (ch. 1 and 10; 41. 18, 19) they have a human body, with a head presenting the faces of a man, a lion, an ox, and an eagle, four hands, and four wings; the whole body of the cherubim and the wheels of the chariot being furnished with innumerable eyes. In Revelation the four faces of the cherubim are distributed among the four "living creatures" that surround the throne of God. [See GOSPELS.]

CHESTNUT-TREE [chĕst'nŭt-tree] (Gen. 30. 37; Ezek. 31. 8; R. V. plane-tree). It is a tall and majestic tree, growing near water in Palestine. From the globular form of the flowers and fruits it is often called button-tree.

CHITTIM [chĭt'tim] (also Kittim, Gen. 10. 4) is Greek Kition, the Phœnician port of Cyprus; the modern Larnaka. Hence Chittim is used in the Old Testament to denote the whole of Cyprus (e. g. Num. 24. 24).

CHRIST [chrīst] JESUS [jē'sus]. [See LIFE OF JESUS, pages 53–67; His Life and Works, see Concordance, under CHRIST; His Names, Titles, and Offices, see Concordance, under JESUS.]

CHRONICLES [chrŏn'ĭ-cles], THE FIRST AND SECOND BOOKS OF THE, are in the third part of the Jewish Canon, where they form one book, named "Words (or "Acts") of Days," i. e. minutes of events, lists of names, and the like. In the LXX. they are divided into two books, entitled Paraleipomĕna, "things omitted" or "passed over." Their Latin title from the time of Jerome has been Chronica, "Chronicles." The priestly tone of the writer, and his preoccupation with the fortunes of the house of David and the kingdom of Judah, are marked features of the work, which runs parallel to the older history (Books of Samuel and Kings), and is mainly drawn from the same sources.

38. 5 ISAIAH 39. 7

Hezekiah's Song of Thanksgiving.

ing, 5 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. 6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city. 7 And this shall be the sign unto thee from Jehovah, that Jehovah will do this thing that he hath spoken: 8 behold, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which is gone down on the [1]dial of Ahaz [2]with the sun, to return backward ten steps. So the sun returned ten steps [3]on the dial whereon it was gone down.

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said, In the [4]noontide of my days I shall go into the gates of Sheol:
I am deprived of the residue of my years.
11 I said, I shall not see [5]Jehovah, even [5]Jehovah in the land of the living:
I shall behold man no more [6]with the inhabitants of the world.
12 My dwelling is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd's tent:
I have rolled up, like a weaver, my life; he will cut me off from the [7]loom:
From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.
13 [8]I quieted myself until morning; as a lion, so he breaketh all my bones:

Receives Messengers from Babylon

[10]Wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live.
17 Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness:
But [11]thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of [12]corruption;
For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.
18 For Sheol cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee:
They that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.
19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day:
The father to the children shall make known thy truth.
20 Jehovah is ready to save me:
Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments
All the days of our life in the house of Jehovah.
21 Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover. 22 Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of Jehovah?

39 At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah; for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. 2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and showed them the house of his [13]precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his [14]armor, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah

9. 9 EZEKIEL 10. 19

Vision of Fiery Coals; of Four Wheels; of the Divine Glory over the Cherubim

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of [1]wresting of judgment: for they say, Jehovah hath forsaken the land, and Jehovah seeth not. 10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon their head. 11 And, behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

10 Then I looked, and, behold, in the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim there appeared above them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. 2 And he spake unto the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in between the whirling wheels, even under the bim the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And I looked, and, behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was like unto a [4]beryl stone. 10 And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been [5]within a wheel. 11 When they went, they went [6]in their four directions: they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went. 12 And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had. 13 As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing the whirling wheels. 14 And every one had four faces: the first face was the month, on the first day of the month, were the tops of the mountains seen.

6 And it came to pass at the end of forty days, that Noah opened the window of the ark which he had made: 7 and he sent forth a raven, and it went forth to and fro, until the waters were dried up from off the earth. 8 And he sent forth a dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the ground; 9 but the dove found no rest for the sole of her foot, and she every bird, whatsoever moveth upon the earth, after their families, went forth out of the ark.

20 And Noah builded an altar unto Jehovah, and took of every clean beast, and of every clean bird, and offered burnt-offerings on the altar. 21 And Jehovah smelled the sweet savor; and Jehovah said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's [2]sake, for that the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I

BIBLE FOR MINISTERS' NOTES

Long Primer 4to, as above. Printed on Fine White Paper.

We have many calls from Ministers for a Bible in which they can make notes. A wide margin on a Bible makes a large book and does not give enough room for notes. On the other hand interleaving a Bible more than doubles its thickness, and puts in leaves where they are not wanted. We have applied our Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia Binder to a Bible, which will enable the minister to put in a sermon, or his notes, wherever required all through the Bible. Nelson's Patent Loose-Leaf Binder makes the volume look just like any other Bible, and is so simple that anyone can insert, change or remove a page or pages in a moment. Additional blank pages can be secured at any time at nominal cost.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were [1] possessed with demons. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many demons; and he suffered not the demons to speak, because they knew him[2].

35 And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed. 36 And Sī'mŏn and they that were with him followed after him; 37 and they found him, and say unto him, All are seeking thee. 38 And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for to this end came I forth. 39 And he went into their synagogues throughout all Gāl'ĭ-lēe, preaching and casting out demons.

40 And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, [3] and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 41 And being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou made clean. 42 And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. 43 And he [4] strictly charged him, and straightway sent him out, 44 and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Mō'sĕs [5] commanded, for a testimony unto them. 45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the [6] matter, insomuch that [7] Jē'sŭs could no more openly enter into [8] a city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

some of them that stand here, who shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

17 And after six days Jē'sŭs taketh with him Pē'tĕr, and [1]Jāmes, and Jŏhn his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart: 2 and he was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his garments became white as the light. 3 And behold, there appeared unto them Mō'sĕs and Ē-lī'jăh talking with him. 4 And Pē'tĕr answered, and said unto Jē'sŭs, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three [2]tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mō'sĕs, and one for Ē-lī'jăh. 5 While he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. 6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jē'sŭs came and touched them and said, Arise, and be not afraid. 8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jē'sŭs only.

9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jē'sŭs commanded them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Ē-lī'jăh must first come? 11 And he answered and said, Ē-lī'jăh indeed cometh, and shall restore all things: 12 but I say unto you, that Ē-lī'jăh is come already, and they knew him not, but did unto him whatsoever they would. Even so shall the Son of man also suffer of them. 13 Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of Jŏhn the Băp'tĭst.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously; for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and ofttimes into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. 17 And Jē'sŭs answered and said, O faithless

12 Now when he heard that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Gal'i-lee; 13 and leaving Naz'a-reth, he came and dwelt in Ca-per'na-um, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zob-u-lun and Naph'ta-li: 14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through I-sa'iah the prophet, saying, after the messengers of Dā'vid and became his wife.

I SAMUEL, 26, 27. Abner is reproved.

43 Dā'vid also took A-hĭn'o-ăm of Jĕz'-re-el; and they were also both of them his wives.

44 But Saul had given Mī'chal his daughter, Dā'vid's wife, to Phăl'tī the son of Lā'ish, which was of Găl'lim.

262 CHAPTER 26.

AND the Zĭph'ītes came unto Saul to Gĭb'e-ah, saying, Doth not Dā'vid hide himself in the hill of Hăch'i-lah, which is before Jĕsh'i-mŏn?

2 Then Saul arose, and went down to the wilderness of Zĭph, having three thousand chosen men of Is'ra-el with him, to seek Dā'vid in the wilderness of Zĭph.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hăch'-i-lah, which is before Jĕsh'i-mŏn, by the way: but Dā'vid abode in the wilderness; thou not, Ăb'ner? Then Ăb'ner answered and said, Who art thou that criest to the king?

15 And Dā'vid said to Ăb'ner, Art not thou a valiant man? and who is like to thee in Is'ra-el? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lord the king? for there came one of the people in to destroy the king thy lord.

16 This thing is not good that thou hast done. As the LORD liveth, ye are worthy to die, because ye have not kept your master, the LORD'S anointed. And now see where the king's spear is, and the cruse of water that was at his bolster.

17 And Saul knew Dā'vid's voice, and said, Is this thy voice, my son Dā'vid? And Dā'vid said, It is my voice, my lord, O king.

18 And he said, Wherefore doth my lord thus pursue after his servant? for what have I done? or what evil is in mine hand?

BIBLE FOR MINISTERS' NOTES.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

That Little Bar and Nut—has Solved the Problem!

We have many calls from Ministers for a Bible in which they can make notes, either in the margin or by interleaving. A wide margin on a Bible makes a large book and does not give enough room for notes. On the other hand interleaving a Bible more than doubles its thickness, and puts in leaves where they are not wanted. We have applied Nelson's Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia Binder to a Bible, and we supply with it 160 blank pages, which enables the minister to put in a sermon, or his notes, wherever required all through the Bible. Nelson's Patent Loose-Leaf Binder makes the volume look just like any other Bible, and is so simple that anyone can insert, change or remove a page or pages in a moment. Additional blank pages can be secured at any time at nominal cost.

KING JAMES (1611) VERSION.

With Combined Concordance and 12 Indexed Maps.

Containing Under One Alphabet

A new Concordance. Subject-Index. Pronouncing Dictionary of Scripture Proper Names, diacritically marked for their pronunciation according to the latest revision of Webster's International Dictionary, with meaning. Obsolete and ambiguous words. Names, Titles, and Offices of Christ, by Professor Ira M. Price, Ph.D., Chicago. Life and Work of Christ from Scripture Texts. Incidents in the Old Testament referred to in the New Testament. Passages quoted or paraphrased in the New Testament from the Old. Over 10,000 references are given to the Revised Version, which show all the principal changes of the Revised Version side by side with the passages according to the King James Version. 42 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.
43 When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.
44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.
45 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.
46 While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.
47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.
48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?
49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!
50 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

30 EVENING PRAYER.

openly showed in the sight of the heathen.

He hath remembered his mercy and truth toward the house of Israel: and all the ends of the world have seen the salvation of our God.

Show yourselves joyful unto the LORD, all ye lands: sing, rejoice, and give thanks.

Praise the LORD upon the harp: sing to the harp with a psalm of thanksgiving.

With trumpets also and shawms: O show yourselves joyful before the LORD, the King.

Let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is: the round world, and they that dwell therein.

Let the floods clap their hands, and let the hills be joyful together before the LORD: for he cometh to judge the earth.

With righteousness shall he judge the world: and the people with equity.

¶ Or this.

Bonum est confiteri.
Psalm xcii.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD: and to sing praises unto thy Name, O Most Highest;

To tell of thy loving-kindness early in the morning: and of thy truth in the night season;

Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the lute: upon a loud instrument, and upon the harp.

For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy works: and I will rejoice in giving 202 THE CHURCH—CONFIRMATION.

216 7s.

THINE forever! God of love,
Hear us from Thy throne above;
Thine forever may we be,
Here, and in eternity.

2 Thine forever! Oh, how blest
They who find in Thee their rest!
Saviour, Guardian, heavenly Friend,
Oh, defend us to the end!

3 Thine forever! Lord of life,
Shield us through our earthly strife:
Thou the Life, the Truth, the Way,
Guide us to the realms of day.

4 Thine forever! Shepherd, keep
These Thy weak and trembling sheep,
Safe alone beneath Thy care,
Let them all Thy goodness share.

5 Thine forever! Thou our Guide,
All our wants by Thee supplied;
All our sins by Thee forgiven,
Lead us, Lord, from earth to heaven.

217 C. M.

WITNESS, ye men and angels; now
Before the Lord we speak;
To Him we make our solemn vow,
A vow we dare not break:

2 That long as life itself shall last,
Ourselves to Christ we yield;
Nor from His cause will we depart,
Or ever quit the field.

EVENING PRAYER. 17

pass against us. And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

¶ Then likewise he shall say.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

Answer. And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

¶ Here, all standing up, the Minister shall say,

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Minister. Praise ye the Lord.

Answer. The Lord's Name be praised.

¶ Then shall follow a Portion of the PSALMS, as they are appointed, or one of the Selections, as they are set forth by this Church. And at the end of every Psalm, and likewise at the end of the Magnificat, Cantate Domino, Bonum est confiteri, Nunc dimittis, Deus misereatur, Benedic anima mea, may be sung or said the Gloria Patri: and at the end of the whole Portion or Selection of Psalms for the day, shall be sung or said the Gloria Patri, or else the Gloria in excelsis, as followeth.

Gloria in excelsis.

GLORY be to God on high, and on earth peace, good will towards men. We praise thee, we bless thee, we worship thee, we glorify thee, we give thanks to thee for thy great glory, O Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty.

O Lord, the only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father, have mercy upon us.

For thou only art holy; thou only art the Lord; thou only, O Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

¶ Then shall be read the FIRST LESSON, according to the Table or Calendar.

¶ After which shall be sung or said the Hymn called Magnificat, as followeth.

160 OTHER FEASTS AND FASTS.

4 Once again those storms are breaking;
Hearts are failing, love grows cold;
Faith is darkened, sin abounding;
Grievous wolves assail Thy fold:
Save us, Lord, our one Salvation;
Save the faith revealed of old.

5 Call the erring by Thy pity;
Warn the tempted by Thy fear;
Keep us true to Thine allegiance,
Counting life itself less dear;
Standing firmer, holding faster,
As we see the end draw near:

6 Till, with holy Jude and Simon
And the thousand faithful more,
We, the good confession witnessed
And the lifelong conflict o'er,
On the sea of fire and crystal
Stand, and wonder, and adore.

General for Saints' Days.

174 7.6.

FROM all Thy saints in warfare, for all Thy saints at rest,
To Thee, O blessèd Jesus, all praises be addressed.
Thou, Lord, didst win the battle that they might conquerors be;
Their crowns of living glory are lit with rays from Thee.

Insert here the stanza for the special Saint's Day to be celebrated.

ST. ANDREW.

2 Praise, Lord, for Thine apostle, the first to welcome Thee,
The first to lead his brother, the very Christ to see.
With hearts for Thee made ready, watch we throughout the year,
Forward to lead our brethren to own Thine Advent near.

ST. THOMAS.

3 All praise for Thine apostle, whose short-lived doubtings prove
Thy perfect twofold nature, the fullness of Thy love.
On all who wait Thy coming shed forth Thy peace, O Lord,
And grant us faith to know Thee, true Man, true God, adored.

6 MORNING PRAYER.

¶ Here, all standing up, the Minister shall say,

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Minister. Praise ye the Lord.

Answer. The Lord's Name be praised.

¶ Then shall be said or sung the following Anthem; except on those days for which other Anthems are appointed; and except also, when it is used in the course of the Psalms, on the nineteenth day of the month.

Venite, exultemus Domino.

O COME, let us sing unto the LORD: let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation.

Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving: and show ourselves glad in him with psalms.

For the LORD is a great God: and a great King above all gods.

In his hand are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hills is his also.

The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands prepared the dry land.

O come, let us worship and fall down: and kneel before the LORD our Maker.

For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.

O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

For he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: and with righteousness to judge the world, and the people with his truth.

¶ Then shall follow a Portion of the PSALMS, as they are appointed, or one of the Selections of Psalms. And at the end of every Psalm, and likewise at the end of the Venite, Benedicite, Benedictus, Jubilate, may be, and at the end of the whole Portion, or Selection from the Psalter, shall be said or sung the Gloria Patri:

GLORY be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost:

386 GENERAL.

429 C. M.

MY God, accept my heart this day,
And make it always Thine,
That I from Thee no more may stray,
No more from Thee decline.

2 Before the cross of Him Who died,
Behold, I prostrate fall;
Let every sin be crucified,
And Christ be all in all.

3 Anoint me with Thy heavenly grace
And seal me for Thine own;
That I may see Thy glorious face,
And worship near Thy throne.

4 Let every thought, and work, and word,
To Thee be ever given;
Then life shall be Thy service, Lord,
And death the gate of heaven!

430 L. M.

JESU, Thou joy of loving hearts!
Thou Fount of life! Thou Light of men!
From the best bliss that earth imparts
We turn unfilled to Thee again.

2 Thy truth unchanged hath ever stood;
Thou savest those that on Thee call;
To them that seek Thee, Thou art good,
To them that find Thee, all in all.

3 We taste Thee, O Thou living Bread!
And long to feast upon Thee still;
We drink of Thee, the Fountain Head,
And thirst from Thee our souls to fill.

OTHER FEASTS AND FASTS. 153

176 P. M.

FOR all the saints, who from their labors rest,
Who Thee by faith before the world confessed,
Thy Name, O Jesu, be forever blest.
Alleluia.

2 Thou wast their Rock, their Fortress, and their Might:
Thou, Lord, their Captain in the well-fought fight;
Thou, in the darkness drear, the one true Light.
Alleluia.

3 Oh, may Thy soldiers, faithful, true, and bold,
Fight as the saints who nobly fought of old,
And win, with them, the victor's crown of gold.
Alleluia.

4 O blest communion, fellowship divine!
We feebly struggle, they in glory shine;
Yet all are one in Thee, for all are Thine.
Alleluia.

THANKSGIVINGS. 45

For Rain.

O GOD, our heavenly Father, who by thy gracious providence dost cause the former and the latter rain to descend upon the earth, that it may bring forth fruit for the use of man; We give thee humble thanks that it hath pleased thee, in our great necessity, to send us at the last a joyful rain upon thine inheritance, and to refresh it when it was dry, to the great comfort of us thy unworthy servants, and to the glory of thy holy Name; through thy mercies in Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SELECTED WORKS OF BEST AUTHORS.

The use of Nelson's India Paper makes it possible to put Dickens's largest novel, 950 pages (large type, same as this), in a pocket size volume only half an inch thick and weighing 8 ounces.

The New Century Library is a radical departure in the art of bookmaking. The size is only 4¼ by 6¼ inches, and not thicker than a monthly magazine. Each volume weighs less than eight ounces. As a library edition it is handsome in the extreme.

The type is large and the printing is beautiful and clear. The India paper and handsome binding give a delightful volume, one that fits perfectly into Charles Lamb's requisite: "A volume you can easily hold in the hand and enjoy by the light of the evening lamp."

THE WORKS OF
ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

The best of Stevenson's Works in six volumes.

"Robert Louis Stevenson was the literary man pure and simple, in the sense that Hazlitt, or Leigh Hunt, or Matthew Arnold was, and this is his most honorable distinction. . . Where is the man among us who could write another 'Virginibus Puerisque,' the most delightful volume for the hammock ever sung in prose? He has attained a popularity such as, as a rule, is accorded only to classic authors or to charlatans. For this he has America to thank rather than Britain, for the Americans buy his books, the only honor a writer's admirers are slow to pay him."—From the Introduction.

THE ROMANCES OF ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

This set contains in 18 volumes the matter which usually occupies 40 volumes.

This selection was made by Andrew Lang and includes an Introduction by him in the first volume.

"Dumas at his best is the greatest of saga-men, tellers of romantic tales with a basis in history. It is usual to compare him with Scott, who, in modern times, re-discovered the lost art of historical romance, and handed the secret on to Dumas. The Frenchman has advantages; he takes care not to give too much historical explanation (a terror to the modern reader); he avoids pompous speeches; he leaps into his subject like Homer and carries you away at once."—From the Introduction.

Jean Valjean fired the second shot, and the second cord lashed the garret-window; the mattress glided between the two poles and fell into the street. The insurgents applauded, and every voice cried:

"There is a mattress."

Now, as the death of the sergeant of artillery had exasperated the troops, for some time past they had been lying flat behind the pile of paving-stones which they had raised; and in order to make up for the enforced silence of the gun, they had opened fire on the barricade. The insurgents, wishing to save their ammunition, did not return this musketry; the fusillade broke against the barricade, but the street which it filled with bullets was terrible. Jean Valjean stepped out of the gap, entered the street, traversed the hail of bullets, went to the mattress, picked it up, placed it on his back, and, re-entering the barricade, himself placed the mattress in the gap, and fixed it against the wall so that the gunners should not see it. This done, they waited for the next round, which was soon fired. The gun belched forth its canister with a hoarse roar, but there was no ricochet, and the grape-shot was checked by the mattress. The expected result was obtained, and the barricade saved.

"Citizen," Enjolras said to Jean Valjean, "the republic thanks you."

Bossuet admired, and laughingly said:

"It is immoral for a mattress to have so much power; it is the triumph of what yields over that which thunders. But no matter, glory to the mattress that annuls a cannon."

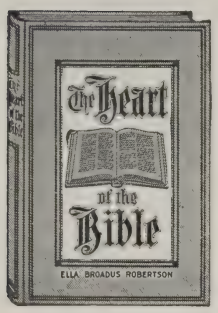
TWO GREAT BOOKS ON THE BIBLE.

THE HEART OF THE BIBLE.

Specially prepared for Young People, Parents and Teachers by

ELLA BROADUS ROBERTSON.

The text used is taken from the latest and best translation, The American Standard Bible.



This book differs from any book heretofore published in the fact that it contains all the principal stories and events of the Bible in historical order, in the language of the Bible itself. The idea embodied in the book was suggested to the author by the desire of her children for Bible stories "just as they are in the Bible."

"The Heart of the Bible" reveals that the Bible is not a book of verses, but of histories, stories, and poems, delightful to read, as well as a task to be learned. It tells the Bible stories in Bible language with the necessary omissions, gives the dramatic effect when read aloud, and is the result of long experience and careful preparation.

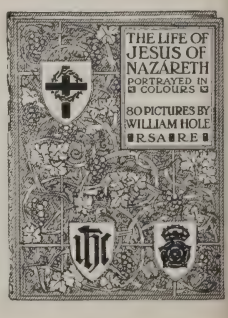
The Sunday School Times says: "It is just the kind of book that many parents have wanted to use in reading the Bible with their children; and the children will not be the only beneficiaries of the fine work that Mrs. Robertson has done."

THE LIFE OF JESUS OF NAZARETH.

Reproductions in color. Facsimile of the eighty water-color drawings by WM. HOLE, R.S.A., R.E., portraying the Life of Christ from the Annunciation to the Ascension. Each picture is preceded by the Bible Narrative, illustrated with introductory prefaces by the Venerable Archdeacon SINCLAIR and Dr. GEORGE ADAM SMITH, and descriptive notes on the illustrations by the artist. Extra cloth. Illuminated cover. Gold top.....$4.00



The pictures in this volume, portraying the Life of the Redeemer, have excited unrivaled interest because the artist has striven to present the scenes as they would have appeared to a man of the land and time when they happened. They show us what in those great hours anyone with a keen eye might have seen, not only of the central figure, but of the earth, the air, the faces, the figures and emotion of the crowd.

The author of this book, a former diplomat in Paris and Rome and war correspondent in Russia and Manchuria, has endeavored to provide an answer to the questions which occur to the traveller when he comes to Russia for the first time—whose curiosity is stimulated with regard to the way in which the people live and the manner of their government—and gives the reader an idea of the nature of the more important factors in Russian life.

"In Russia at the present day you will find representatives of every kind of race and every kind of creed and every kind of language; but out of all these, three dominant races played a part in Russian history—the Finns, the Tartars, and the Slavs. The Slavs got the best of it. They absorbed the Finns and ousted the Tartars . . . . . .

So we remain face to face with the question, what are the Slavs? . . . . . The Slavs are a white people like the Latins, the Celts, and the Germans; they have nothing in common with anything Tartar, Mongol, and Semitic . . . . . Having got to Russia a long time ago, they overran the country and absorbed it." From Chap. I.

1. BALZAC. La Peau de Chagrin, Le Curé de Tours, Le Colonel Chabert.

La Peau de Chagrin is a powerful philosophical novel. Le Curé de Tours is a novel compressed into a vigorous epitome. Le Colonel Chabert is a short story, a literary cameo, in the execution of which style of writing no one but Maupassant has ever excelled Balzac.

2. COMTE PH. DE SÉGUR. La Campagne de Russie.

One of the classics of Napoleonic literature. Général Comte de Ségur was aide-de-camp to the Emperor, and an eye-witness of the great catastrophe in Napoleon's career.

3. S. FRANCOIS DE SALES. Introduction à la Vie dévote.

L'Introduction a la Vie dévote is the most popular, and at the same time the most literary, book of devotion in the French language. Although written three centuries ago, it has lost none of its freshness and charm.

4. DAUDET. Lettres de mon Moulin.

There is no more delightful collection of short stories than Lettres de mon Moulin, by Alphonse Daudet.

5. E.-M. DE VOGÜÉ. Les Morts qui parlent.

This is a succession of vivid pictures drawn from the political experiences of the Vicomte de Vogüé under the Third Republic.

6. JEAN DE LA BRÈTE. Mon Oncle et mon Curé.

A simple love-story, told with such charm of style, such freshness and candor, and such delicate analysis, that it has completely caught and held the public taste.

7, 7b. TOLSTOÏ. Anna Karénine (2 vol.).

In this masterpiece of Léon Tolstoï we have the eternal tragedy of guilty love, side by side and contrasted with a beautiful picture of family happiness. Not even Shakespeare has probed the human heart so deeply.

8. ARTHUR LÉVY. Napoléon intime.

Arthur Lévy is the first to show us the Napoléon intime, and we are surprised to find that the Napoleon of the legend had many domestic virtues—that he was a good son, a loving husband, and a devoted brother.

9. BORDEAUX. Les Roquevillard.

Les Roquevillard is a plea for the sanctity of family tradition. Henry Bordeaux is skilled in dialogue and in the treatment of a plot, and shows himself to be a careful observer of life.

10. G. D'AVENEL. Les Français de mon temps.

No one can accuse the Vicomte d'Avenel of flattering or idealizing the originals of his brilliant picture. His unrestrained and biting satire is exercised with serene impartiality at the expense of society and of the political world.

11. MAETERLINCK. Morceaux choisis.

There is no writer in France at the present day whose influence is more subtle, more profound, and more universal. The quintessence of his ideas and of his art is contained in the Morceaux choisis, which have been prepared by Madame Georgette Leblanc, his wife, for readers of the Collection Nelson.

12. CHERBULIEZ. Le Comte Kostia.

In this age of pessimistic, morbid, and psychological novels, it is delightful to find one which is a simple story of love, intrigue, and adventure. Such a novel is Le Comte Kostia, by Cherbuliez.

13. Anthologie des Poètes lyriques français.

La Petite Anthologie will fill a much felt want in literature. It contains in one small volume the lyrical gems of four hundred years, from François Villon to Alfred de Musset.

15. ABOUT. Les Mariages de Paris.

None of Edmond About's books reveals his splendid literary qualities better than Les Mariages de Paris. In it we find the clearness and versatility of expression, the vivacity, the wit, and the sense of proportion which have made his readers compare him with Voltaire.

16. TOURGUÉNEFF. Fumée.

Fumée is an example of the dramatic vividness and the sympathetic understanding of the human heart which make Tourguéneff one of the great masters of Russian fiction.

17. BERTRAND. L'Invasion.

A story of the conquest of Marseilles by Italian immigration, and the life of these immigrants, with their instincts of violence and anarchy, and their traditions of brigandage, furnishes the author with the most dramatic and most picturesque of themes.

18. SAINT-SIMON. La Cour de Louis XIV.

The high rank of the Duc de Saint-Simon enabled him to observe closely all that happened at Versailles. A careful selection, descriptive of the Court of Louis XIV., is offered to readers of the Collection Nelson who have not the time to read the nineteen volumes of the original Mémoires.

19. TILLIER. Mon Oncle Benjamin.

Mon Oncle Benjamin, bohemian, bon vivant, and rather too fond of his glass of wine, but otherwise an honest, upright, and sensible man, is a type that will live as long as Uncle Toby and the Vicar of Wakefield.

20. BERNARDIN DE SAINT-PIERRE. Paul et Virginie.

Paul et Virginie is an idyll of the tropics, the story of two children who are brought up in a simplicity which is untouched by the evils of civilization. They love each other, but are separated by social prejudices.

21. CHATEAUBRIAND. Mémoires d'Outre-tombe (Napoléon).

Chateaubriand has no love for Napoleon, but this only makes his admiration the more clear-sighted. In conjunction with this portrait we have considered it of interest to publish the caricature contained in the vindictive pamphlet, De Buonaparte et des Bourbons.

22. SCOTT. Ivanhoe.

A translation into French of perhaps the most generally popular of the Waverley novels.

23. BALZAC. Eugénie Grandet.

A novel that ranks among the French classics, and in which the great writer has risen to his highest. The story is entrancing and throws a light on French provincial life.

24. LANG. La Pucelle de France.

Andrew Lang's book is worthy to take a foremost place among the many books written about Joan of Arc.

25. SARCEY. Le Siège de Paris.

A more concise and more complete summary of the anguishing, agonizing days of the Année terrible is not to be met with.

26. FLAUBERT Trois Contes.

Three tales by the famed author of Madame Bovary and of Salammbo. The first two are touching in their pathos and in their masterly word-painting; the third deals with Herodias, the mother of Salome.

27. LA BRUYÈRE. Caractères.

A sincere and deep religious note runs through the work, while the style is vivid and eloquent. No student of French literature can afford to ignore La Bruyère's essays.

28. THEURIET. La Chanoinesse.

A tale of the French Revolution embodying incidents dealt with more soberly in history, but which are here rendered interesting in novel form, while preserving historical accuracy.

One of the many psychological novels written by this distinguished author, and perhaps the best to illustrate his views of life.

30. TOURGUÉNEFF.
Une Nichée de Gentilshommes.

A singularly pathetic story, the English version of which is known under the name of A Nest of Nobles, by the great Russian novelist who is worthy to be ranked with Thackeray, Charles Dickens, and George Eliot.

31. TOLSTOÏ. Le faux Coupon, etc.

A strange story of that modern Russian life which is a sealed book to so many. Accompanying this tale are several others equally instructive, and a drama, Le Cadavre vivant, in twelve tableaux.

32. TOLSTOÏ. Le Père Serge, etc.

Yet another tale from the pen of the great Russian reformer. To it are added shorter ones, presenting the Russian état d'ame in its various mysterious phases.

33. TOLSTOÏ. Hadji Mourad, etc.

A third series of tales which, with the preceding ones, suffice to give one Tolstoi's range of thought. The scene of Hadji Mourad is laid in the Caucasus in the days of Schamyl, the hero of Circassia's last fight for independence.

34, 35. VANDAL.
L'Avènement de Bonaparte (2 vol.).

Lord Rosebery expresses the opinion of the most competent critics when he calls Vandal "the greatest historian of our time." It is unnecessary to remark how much Lord Rosebery's preface, written specially for this edition, adds to the value of the publication.

36. RENAN.
Souvenirs d'Enfance et de Jeunesse.

The full text is given in this volume of the great French philologist and historian.

37. BAZIN. De toute son âme.

One of the most human of the many delightful novels written by that master in the art of revealing the innermost of a woman's heart.

38. PIERRE DE COULEVAIN.
Ève victorieuse.

Mademoiselle Fabre is well known under her nom de plume to English readers. In the present case, she has chosen an American for her heroine, and incidentally given a sketch of the Americăn colony in Paris.

Chronique du Règne de Charles IX.

An extract from memoirs and pamphlets relating to the end of the sixteenth century, embodying in romantic form the chief events of the reign of Charles IX.

Le Voyage de M. Perrichon et autres Comédies.

This rattling comedy will be read with delight, as will also the three other comedies by the same playwright embodied in the volume.

44. BULWER LYTTON.
Les derniers Jours de Pompéi.

A translation of a book with which all are familiar; it will be of assistance to students of the French language.

45. CONSCIENCE. Le Gentilhomme pauvre.

One of the most charming novels of the famed Belgian writer, the scene of which is laid in Antwerp, his native city.

46. BARRETT WENDELL.
La France d'Aujourd'hui.

The author of this series of lectures on the France of to-day was the first to deliver them at the Sorbonne. He is an eminent professor of Harvard University, and his appreciations of the various aspects of French social life have been thought worthy of a translation crowned for its excellence by the French Academy.

47. JULES LEMAÏTRE. Les Rois.

A novel in historical form by the eminent dramatic critic, embodying the vicissitudes of a reigning family anywhere in Europe, and tinged with philosophical sarcasm.

48. KIPLING. Simples Contes des Collines.

This French version of Plain Tales from the Hills is from the pen of M. Albert Savine, who has made his mark as a translator. Like other translations, it will be of great value to students of both languages.

49, 50. DUMAS. Les Trois Mousquetaires (2 vol.).

The adventures of Messieurs Athos, Porthos, and Aramis, and d'Artagnan, are still as popular reading as ever, and need no introduction.

A work just at present greatly under discussion. It has been translated into several languages.

L'Aventure de Ladislas Bolski.

One of the classical novels of French literature, which is to-day as great a favorite as when it appeared forty-four years ago.

A French translation of the popular novel The Scarlet Pimpernel, which is also known through its dramatic version.

62. BAZIN. Le Guide de l'Empereur.

A pathetic tale by that writer of home life in the French provinces, who has already made his reputation. Added to it are several other stories which will appeal even to a child's taste in reading.

63, 65, 66. DICKENS.
Aventures de M. Pickwick (3 vol.).

64. MARQUIS DE SÉGUR. Julie de Lespinasse.

One of the saddest stories to be met with in the pages of French history, and one told in the present instance in more complete form than heretofore, as the author had access to family papers formerly withheld from writers of history.

67. LE ROY. Jacquou le Croquant.

The story of the life of a French peasant dramatically told and full of poignant interest and stirring incidents.

68. MARCELLE TINAYRE. Hellé.

A dainty novel, a clean-cut cameo by perhaps the most charming among French women writers of the day. Her analysis of her own sex's character may have been equalled, but assuredly not surpassed.

69. E.-M. DE VOGÜÉ. Le Maître de la Mer.

A modern novel about an American multi-millionaire whose commercial operations made him master of the world's commerce.

70. COMTE PH. DE SÉGUR.

LUTETIA CLASSICS

Edited by ÉMILE FAGUET, de l'Academie francaise

The LUTETIA CLASSICS issued up to the present time constitute in themselves a valuable introduction to the highest works in French literature. Molière, Perrault, Madame de Staël, Rousseau, Montaigne, Madame de Sévigné, Racine, Corneille, are names to conjure with, and their works should be read by all seeking to become intimately acquainted with the beauties of French style. THE NEW YORK BOOK COMPANY

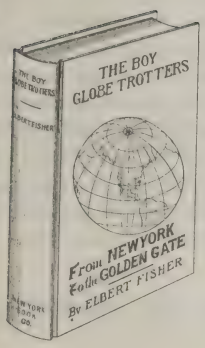
147 FOURTH AVENUE NEW YORK

The Boy Globe Trotters (New)

By ELBERT FISHER



THIS is a series of four books relating the adventures of two boys, who undertake to make a trip around the world, working their way as they go. In the course of their travels they meet with various peoples having strange habits and customs, and their adventures form a medium for the introduction of much instructive matter relative to the character and industries of the cities and countries through which they pass. A unique feature is the description given of the native sports of boys in each of the foreign countries through which they travel. Many of the interesting phases throughout the books are illustrated by decorative head and end pieces for each chapter, there being 36 original drawings in each book, all by the author, as well as four striking halftones.

12mo. Cloth Many Illustrations. Price 60c. per Vol.

1. From New York to the Golden Gate, takes in many of the principal points between New York and California, and contains a highly entertaining narrative of the boys' experiences overland and not a little useful information.

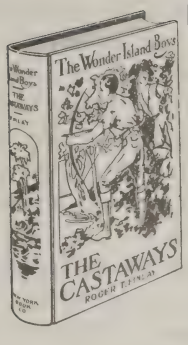
2. From San Francisco to Japan, relates the experiences of the two boys at the Panama Exposition, and subsequently their journeyings to Hawaii, Samoa and Japan. The greater portion of their time is spent at sea, and a large amount of interesting information appears throughout the text.

3. From Tokio to Bombay, This book covers their interesting experiences in Japan, followed by sea voyages to the Philippines, Hongkong and finally to India. Their experiences with the natives cover a field seldom touched upon in juvenile publications, as it relates to the great Hyderabad region of South India.

4. From India to the War Zone, describes their trip toward the Persian Gulf. They go by way of the River Euphrates and pass the supposed site of the Garden of Eden, and manage to connect themselves with a caravan through the Great Syrian Desert. After transversing the Holy Land, where they visit the Dead Sea, they arrive at the Mediterranean port of Joppa, and their experiences thereafter within the war zone are fully described.

The Wonder Island Series For Boys

By ROGER T. FINLAY



These books are as wonderful as the place they describe. Two boys and a man are shipwrecked on a South Sea Island. Following their discovery of ores they make weapons, electrical devices, and build a boat. Their experiences on the island, where they make hundreds of useful things, and meet with savage tribes, which they subdue and civilize, cover a wider range than any series of books for boys ever offered to the public. It treats of so many subjects that it may aptly be described as a series wherein each page is a romance, and every line a fact. Each book is illustrated with halftones and numerous line-cuts throughout the text.

12mo Cloth Price 60c. per volume

THE CASTAWAYS

This volume describes their joining the training ship Investigator; the disaster in mid-ocean and the landing on the island. Bereft of everything, they build a shelter and make fire by primitive methods. They capture yak, use their milk, and train them for work. They learn how to use clays and simple ores; how to make observations; together with hundreds of other things. Fully illustrated.

EXPLORING THE ISLAND

The boys decide to traverse the island. A number of mysterious things lead them to believe that savages live there; they meet several peculiar objects in the hills, and find a mysterious boat. Their flag staff and their signal flag disappear and a native arrow is found in the skull of a dead animal. They make glass and many other useful things.

THE MYSTERIES OF THE CAVERNS

The boys discover a cave and attempt to explore it. What they unearth there is intensely interesting. They find what foes they have to contend with, and learn that other white people are on the island, captives of the savages. Meanwhile their mechanical experiments are highly successful.

THE TRIBESMEN

On a trip into the interior a large river is discovered, and floating there is a life-boat similar to the one they own. A note found in it states that the writer is held captive by a savage tribe. A rescue party is formed, but as better weapons are needed they return to their camp and forge them. They also extract various metals from the ores they find, and add to their mechanical knowledge, while preparing for the succor of the captive.

THE CAPTURE AND PURSUIT

The boys are thrown into the path of three warring bands of savages and by a rare stroke of fortune succeed in rescuing two of the former shipmates of the steamship Investigator. The professor is captured by the tribe, but his knowledge of medicine, put to good purpose, wins over the chief of the hostiles.

THE CONQUEST OF THE SAVAGES

Stirring experiences follow the rescue of the Professor, and finally by the exercise of rare tact, a truce is agreed upon by all the hostile tribes. Following this the Professor and the boys undertake to train the savages, educate and civilize them. It turns out to be a difficult problem, but by perserverance the islanders are trained to follow peaceful pursuits.

ADVENTURES ON STRANGE ISLANDS (New)

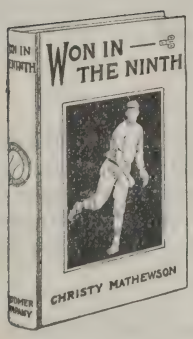
After months of toil, assisted by the natives, a sea-going boat is completed and the boys return home. A few months later they return to Wonder Island and set out upon the exploration of neighboring islands. They encounter natives who follow strange customs, and narrowly escape disaster, the trip however having a fortunate ending.

TREASURES OF THE ISLANDS (New)

Many of the peculiar incidents attending their long stay on Wonder Island are finally explained by their discoveries on Venture Island. A strange white man is found who tells them he was cast upon the island nearly fifty years before, rescued by natives and appointed their chief. Another white man is found who has lost his memory. He recovers his reason and assists the boys in locating the missing charts and deciphering their meaning. With his assistance the many mysteries of the islands and their earlier inhabitants are finally explained.

Christy Mathewson's Book

A Ripping Good Baseball Story
by One Who Knows the Game



THIS book has attained a larger sale than any baseball story ever published.

The narrative deals with the students of a large university and their baseball team, the members of which have names that enable the reader to recognize them as some of the foremost baseball stars of the day before their entrance into the major leagues.

One gains a very clear idea of "inside baseball" stripped of wearisome technicalities. The book is profusely illustrated throughout and contains also a number of plates showing the manner in which Mathewson throws his deceptive curves, together with brief description of each.

Cloth bound Many illustrations. Price 60c. per volume

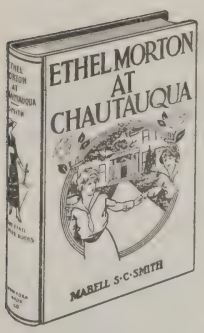
The Ethel Morton Series (New)

By MABELL S. C. SMITH

Late Asst. Editor The Chautauquan



The author of these books is exceptionally qualified to write a series of books for girls. An entirely new field is explored, the stories, being in keeping with the wider range of subjects which interest the girl of to-day. Not only do the books contain information relative to sports in which girls may engage, but the reader receives instruction in various kinds of handcraft, such, for instance, as basketry, leather-work, construction of craftman's furniture; also in cooking, etc. The unfailing sense of humor and the happy and wholesome atmosphere pervading these books afford the reader a rare sense of satisfaction.

Printed on best quality paper and bound in extra grade cloth with attractive stamping. Artistic wrappers with individual designs in three colors.

Large 12mo. Many illustrations. Cloth, 60c. per volume.

ETHEL MORTON AT CHAUTAUQUA

The Morton family spends the summer at Chautauqua, N. Y., where the Ethels, (for there are two cousins of the same name called Ethel Blue and Ethel Brown from the color of their eyes), learn how to swim and row, how to revive a drowned person and they make practical use of this knowledge. They ascend in an aeroplane, visit Niagara Falls and other points, and form the United Service Club. Illustrated throughout.

ETHEL MORTON AND THE CHRISTMAS SHIP

Back in their New Jersey homes the members of the United Service Club, which the girls had formed during the previous summer, decide to make presents for the orphans in the European war zone. They make baskets, leather articles, frames, boxes and dozens of things to be sold for the benefit of the orphans. Numerous drawings through the text.

ETHEL MORTON'S HOLIDAYS

The girls conceive the idea of having their Club celebrate every holiday throughout the year. On some of these days they make eventful visits to places of interest, such as Mount Vernon, West Point, etc. They receive further instruction in handcraft and meet with unusual success in making different articles. Fully illustrated.

ETHEL MORTON AT ROSE HOUSE

The girls receive from Ethel's grandfather an old farmhouse and set about to remodel it. They furnish it and have a Rose fete, which is a wonderful success, and with the proceeds they buy many necessary things for the house. The way in which they build furniture for the house is all fully illustrated, so the reader may learn how it is done. An extended trolley trip takes the members of the Club over much Colonial and Revolutionary ground in Massachusetts. Many Illustrations.

ETHEL MORTON'S ENTERPRISE

At the approach of Spring the activities of the Club are directed toward out-of-door sports. On a nearby plot of land a cave is discovered which the girls furnish, and there they learn something about camp-life and cooking in the open. Fully Illustrated.

ETHEL MORTON AT SWEET BRIER LODGE

Ethel's aunt builds a bungalow and allows the girls free scope in the selection of its decoration and furnishings. The Club next makes a trip to the "Land of Catfish and Waffles" and the members as usual make the most of it. Ethel Blue meets with an accident, which unexpectedly is the means of bringing happiness to her. Illustrated throughout.

The "How-To-Do-It" Books for Boys

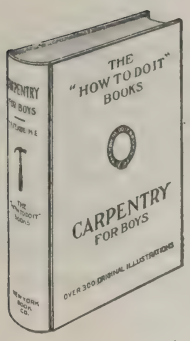
By J. S. ZERBE



THE author of this series has had a wide range of experience in these lines, and knows the subjects from a practical standpoint. He considers that a knowledge of how to do it is of far more importance than a mere description of the manner in which a particular lot of articles are made, for the reason that in the making of every article a principle is employed in the handling of tools and in the laying out of the work. This applies to Carpentry, Electricity, and Mechanics alike. These structural ideas are thoroughly instilled from a fundamental standpoint.

12 mo. Cloth. Profusely illustrated. Price 60 cents per volume

Carpentry for Boys

No other books, treating of this subject, go so deeply into the real fundamentals of the "King of the Trades." To describe how a piece of furniture is made will not teach a boy to be a carpenter; furnishing the names and pictures of a lot of useful articles will not make a workman any more than pages of printed music will make a musician. The book teaches what are the right tools to use; how to grind, sharpen and hold them; how to design articles; the manner in which work is laid put; gives a full treatise on the uses of the square and compass; the technical designations of the different structural parts with illustrations; also a chapter on drawing, and its utility, with sketches of all angles, curves and other geometric figures; treats of moldings and practical applications in the use of the same; analyzes tenoning, mortising, rabbeting and beading; explains trusses and bridge structures; suggests the best woods to use; how to stain and treat them; and wood turning. It contains 303 illustrations all specially made by the author to illustrate the text.

Electricity for Boys

This book takes up the subject of electricity and follows it through the successive steps of its development. It shows how to make the different devices, each of which prepares the boy for the next higher order in the development. In this way he learns not only how the different structural forms are made, but the reasons for their existence. He discovers why certain types of electrical mechanism were carried out and improved, and why others were found wanting and became failures from a commercial or a practical standpoint. It is not only a workable guide for the shop but it is a text book. Every term which the boy should know is defined. Handsomely illustrated by the author.

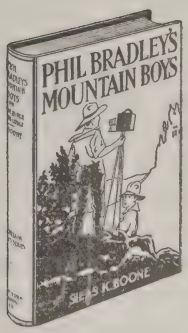
Practical Mechanics for Boys

This most difficult subject is so treated in this work that the boy learns from the very beginning, the use of tools, and the most advantageous way of handling them. The file and its manifold uses in the hands of a skilled workman, has seldom, heretofore, formed a part of the apprentices' instruction in books; so with the uses of the dividers. These two simple tools are so important that a workman may judge the ability of another by watching him use them. These are but a few of the many things taught, explained and illustrated. Any one can shift the lever of a belt which turns a lathe; but how to chuck the work, or handle the tail stock, or set the bits, are entirely different matters. So the planer, the intricacies of the milling machine, and even the apparently simple drilling machine are made equally plain and practical in this wonderful volume. Fully illustrated by the author.

The Mountain Boys Series

(New)

By SILAS K. BOONE



THE author of these books has spent many years of his life in field and forest, and through an intimate knowledge of nature's moods has succeded in portraying the delights of hunting and fishing and the various forms of out door amusement in which healthful boys love to indulge. He has the happy knack of telling his stories in language which enable them readily to visualize the characters forming the subject of his narratives.

12mo. Cloth 40c. per volume.

PHIL BRADLEY'S MOUNTAIN BOYS, or, The Birch Bark Lodge

Not long after the boys arrive at Lake Surprise, they observe that it does not belie its name. A wild cat, unexpectedly encountered, loses the fear of man in protection of her young. The Pine Woods furnish new adventures, some of them more ludicrous than serious.

PHIL BRADLEY AT THE WHEEL, or, The Mountain Boys' Mad Auto Dash

The temporary closing of school allows the Mountain Boys the opportunity to cruise around in Phil's new machine. In their travels about the surrounding country they help to extinguish a burning farmhouse, save the life of a man who was badly burned, and see exhibited a rare instance of unselfish heroism. An orphan is located in a new home and given a fresh start in life.

PHIL BRADLEY'S SHOOTING BOX, or, The Mountain Boys on Currituck Sound

Their long anticipated trip to North Carolina at last becomes a reality. An uncouth neighbor threatens, at first, to render their stay unpleasant, but so keen is their zest for the wonderful hunting and fishing, and so successful their efforts, that they decide to make a friend of him. An unusually interesting story of duck shooting, under varying conditions, in a hunter's paradise.

PHIL BRADLEY'S SNOW-SHOE TRAIL,
or, The Mountain Boys in the Canadian Wilds

No outing story for boys that has appeared in recent years, pictures so graphically the delights of camping in the far North, with its description of fishing through the ice with a "tip-up", following the trail on snow-shoes, and hunting big game in their native haunts. Our young heroes also meet with a few experiences not on their schedule. Their timely act of charity brings to them the lasting friendship of the recipients. A book crowded with interest from cover to cover.

Campfire and Trail Series

By LAWRENCE J. LESLIE

THESE books, which are the latest work from the pen of this popular author, compare favorably with the best of recent contributions in the field of boys' books. They form a series of absorbingly interesting tales, related by one who has the gift of viewing life from the boy's standpoint.

They possess that indescribable tang of the open which can be imparted only by one who has lived the out-of-door life and can write with a full appreciation of its fascination.

12 mo. Cloth. Separate designs on covers and wrappers in colors. Price 40 cents per volume.

IN CAMP ON THE BIG SUNFLOWER

Max Hastings and his chums looked forward in gleeful anticipation to their week of camping, not realizing that their outing would result to their pecuniary benefit. Their discovery of pearls in the fresh water clams, with which the river abounded, turned their holiday into a period of work, which none of them begrudged. What they realized from their activities and the plans to which they purposed devoting their newly-found wealth, makes most interesting reading.

THE RIVALS OF THE TRAIL

Two of the boys resort to motor-cycles and their varied experiences, in the country through which they wheel, form the basis for an exciting narrative. Their ingenuity and quick wit, on numerous occasions, would do credit to older heads.

THE STRANGE CABIN ON CATAMOUNT ISLAND

The charm of the mysterious appeals to us all, and our young friends proved no exception to this rule. Their efforts to solve the story that lay back of this weird habitation on Catamount Island furnish the theme for an intensely graphic story, replete with sensational developments.

LOST IN THE GREAT DISMAL SWAMP

It is not particularly surprising to learn that our young friend, Clarence Griffin, known as "Bandy Legs" among his comrades, is again in trouble. In their rescue of the lost boy from the dangerous swamp, the chums are required to utilize their knowledge of woodcraft, which indeed they do very cleverly. An unusually readable story.

WITH TRAPPER JIM IN THE NORTH WOODS

What boy has not longed for a touch of life among the great pines of the Northern forests. This story is written in Mr. Leslie's happiest vein and contains much that is interesting and instructive regarding the manner of making camp, hunting and fishing.

CAUGHT IN A FOREST FIRE

Another experience of our young friends in the great North woods. They are in a perilous position, but the cool head of their friend, the trapper, enables them to reach safety. A book every boy should read.

CHUMS OF THE CAMPFIRE (New)

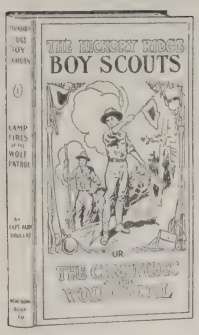
Further experiences of Max Hastings and his friends, relating their amusing adventures on a camping trip, wherein is proven that not only our ears but sometimes our eyes may deceive us. A friendly monkey enlivens the chapters of a book which hasn't a dull line in it.

AFLOAT ON THE FLOOD (New)

A bridge, weakened at its foundation by the rising river, suddenly collapses, carrying with it our young friends. Their plight was indeed critical, and at times appeared hopeless, but a kindly fate intervened. A book in which unselfish heroism plays a prominent part.

The Hickory Ridge Boy SCOUT SERIES

By CAPT. ALAN DOUGLAS, Scoutmaster



THESE books, dealing as they do with the every-day life of the average Boy Scout, are based upon the lines of this great movement. They are real Scout Stories, not tales of wild adventure masquerading as such.

They will be found to be normal, healthful narratives, related in a way to hold the attention of every boy who reads of the realistic experiences of the Hickory Ridge Troop.

Each book is supplemented by an appendix containing information of the Scout movement and its object, also nature lore of animals, trees, etc., and other valuable data (varying in each title), by one who knows his subject thoroughly. These addenda are accompanied by numerous illustrations.

12 mo. Cloth binding. Individual cover onlays in colors. Price 40 cents per volume

THE CAMPFIRES of the Wolf Patrol

Their first camping experience is replete with novel experiences. They put their recently acquired knowledge to practical use and lay the foundation for further and more severe tests. A clean, wholesome story, introducing our hero, Elmer Chenoweth.

WOODCRAFT; or, How a Patrol Leader Made Good

This tale presents many stirring situations in which the boys are called upon to exercise all their ingenuity and unselfishness. It appeals to the manly traits in a boy and at the same time holds the interest to the last line.

PATHFINDER; or, The Missing Tenderfoot

Nat Scott's disappearance worries the boys of the troop, but they finally locate and rescue him none the worse for his experience. Before returning home they clear up the mystery of the haunted mill.

FAST NINE; or, A Challenge from Fairfield

They show the same team-work here as when in camp. The description of their final game with the nine of a rival town, and the outcome thereof, forms a stirring narrative. One of the best baseball stories recently written.

GREAT HIKE; or, The Pride of the Khaki Troop

After weeks of preparation the Hickory Ridge Scouts commence their most ambitious undertaking. Their march takes them far from home and the good-natured rivalry of the different patrols furnishes many interesting and amusing situations.

ENDURANCE TEST; or, How Clear Grit Won the Day

Few stories "get" us more than illustrations of pluck in the face of apparent failure. Many of the scouts fell by the wayside in this arduous grind. A conspiracy almost loses Arthur Stansbury the race, but by frustrating the plans of the boys of a neighboring town he wins a well-merited victory. One of the best stories Captain Douglas has written.

UNDER CANVAS; or, The Hunt for the Cartaret Ghost (New)

It was difficult to doubt the things which they heard, but the boys, by the exercise of common sense, solved a puzzling situation which had long defied the efforts of older heads.

STORM – BOUND or, A Vacation Among the Snow-Drifts (New)

The boys start out on the wrong track, but their scout training comes to the front and the experience proves beneficial to all concerned. They learn anew the wisdom of the words "be prepared".

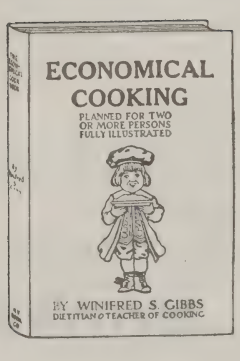
ECONOMICAL COOKING

Planned for Two or More

By Winifred S. Gibbs



THIS comprehensive book is intended to meet the requirements of small families, and particularly of those who find it necessary to obtain the best results in the kitchen at the least outlay. At the same time the palatability and attractiveness of the foods are given equal consideration.

Miss Gibbs, the author is instructor of Dietetics and Cooking at Teachers' College (Columbia University), New York, and also acts in that capacity to one of the civic boards of New York, so her experience lends her efforts all the weight of authority on this important subject.

The work is replete with data showing food compositions, all derived from the latest Government statistics on nutritive values.

In addition there are many valuable suggestions showing how to buy economically, how to plan meals, how to arrange an attractive table for guests, and innumerable hints which make housework easier.

Entire chapters are devoted to the treatment and food for invalids and children. The book contains an extensive glossary of French terms used in cooking and preparation of foods, and a complete menu for one week of each month in the year, so compiled as to include seasonable items.

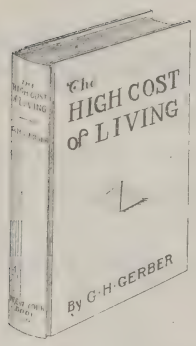
The High Cost of Living

(New)

By G. H. GERBER



THIS book is so written as to bring the discussion of an increasingly important question readily within the grasp of the average reader and to this end technicalities or academic treatment are particularly avoided.

In handling this subject the author holds that it can not be intelligently considered without a thorough understanding of the fundamental laws of human existence. With remarkable clarity of vision he shows when labor, the first essential of human existence, originated, how it developed and the manner of its classification. Along with these points are described the origin and development of capital, society and government.

Wage labor, the purchasing power of labor and the relation between it and capital (or stored labor) are fully discussed, so that it may readily be understood how close a bearing increased labor wages have upon selling prices of commodities.

The various phases of life, germane to the subject, are handled progressively, with subsequent chapters devoted to Trusts, Public Service Corporations, Franchises, Taxation and Tariff, and their bearing upon the question at issue.

The subject, broadly, is reviewed from an entirely different angle than most economic writers are disposed to treat it, and remedies, wholly in harmony with the basic principles developed in the opening chapters are recommended.

THE ASHES OF LOVE

By CHARLES GARVICE, the Matchless Magician of Fiction.

Unparalleled in Interest! Unequalled in its thrilling situations! Unsurpassed in dramatic intensity this marvellous story of love, passion, intrigue, mystery and adventure holds the reader spell-bound. From the pastoral beauty and palatial mansions of a northern clime, we follow hero and heroine, with breathless interest to the sun-scorched veldt and arid plains of Southern Africa. On two continents we watch the battle between virtue and villainy—honor and rascality—justice and knavery. By the magic art of the author we are transformed from mere readers, and become actual participants in a life drama of tremendous interest—a drama which stirs every fibre of our being and sends the blood coursing like a mill-race through the tense arteries of a spell-bound body.

The conventional scorned! The commonplace spurned! New faces, new types, new scenes, new thrills! Seize the golden opportunity here and now. Don't procrastinate, don't delay, but buy and read this stupendous masterpiece of matchless fiction.

"The Ashes of Love" contains nearly 450 pages of solid reading matter, printed in large type on good quality of paper, bound in paper covers, with attractive cover design in two colors.

COMIC COOK BOOK (THE)

Is something you have never heard of before. It is just what the title implies, a book containing a bunch of the funniest, most foolish recipes for cooking that you can possibly imagine. We have sold over 10,000 of these books, and every one reading it is pleased. Notice a few of the recipes:

Angel Cake—Chop up green apples, raisins, bananas, in quantities to suit; stick them in dough. Feed to the children and the angel part will materialize.

Roman Punch—Only a Roman noes how to prepare this dish properly. To prepare it the other way add some rum to your punch. This should be served before the roasts at dinner, but should be eaten frugally, as it was a Roman punch that killed Cæsar.

Emergencies—Should a child swallow a button, lower a button-hole down its throat with a piece of string, pass it over the button and yank it out. If you see a runaway horse approaching and are unable to get out of his way, speak to him firmly, saying, "Lie down, sir!"

To Tell a Bad Egg—This depends entirely on what you wish to tell the egg. If it be bad news, break it gently—this applies both to the communication and the fruit. The former had better be made by telephone, with the safety plug in position.

To Make Ice Water Last—Prepare everything else first.

FORTUNE-TELLING BY CARDS

Here, indeed, is a book every young man or woman should have. To-day "playing cards" for an evening's enjoyment is a most popular pastime. No matter where you are, no matter where you go, nowadays "playing cards" is the thing. When played solely for amusement it is a most innocent entertainment, and, at the same time, a great memory-trainer. You must have often noticed at card parties, while sitting or standing around waiting for late arrivals to come, there are a few moments when you wish they'd start, or you wish there was "something doing." Just at this moment is your chance to make a hit with your fortune-telling by cards. No matter how poor you are at it, the girls will flock around you four and five deep. You will be the king bee, as it were, and you will have the inward pleasure of making the other boys feel like a long skirt on a rainy day—very damp. In addition to the above, "Fortune-Telling by the Magic Crystal" is gone into in detail, giving all the symbols for a correct divination of the future. "The Oraculum! or Napoleon Buonaparte's Book of Fate" (specially translated) is given here for, perhaps, the first time in the English language. A table of questions generally applicable has been compiled, and sixteen pages of answers, to suit any temperament or individuality, are given. "Fortune-Telling with Dice" is very complete, giving an assorted list of thirty-two answers to questions for every possible throw of two dice. Get this book, study it, and use it at the first opportunity, and if the girls don't say you are certainly IT we'll refund the money. There's many a time you'd pay $10 to make a hit with ONE girl—here's a chance to make a hit with any number of them. 96 pages. Paper cover.

GERMANY and the NEXT WAR

By GEN. F. VON BERNHARDI

is the book which created the big furor.

It presents a clear exposition of the German attitude in the European War, and predicts with remarkable accuracy the plan of campaign of the German Army in their attacks on Belgium and France. General Bernhardi claims that England is stationary or retrogressive in the world's progress; that Germany is the coming world power, who by her rise will elevate the world's standard of civilization, art and commerce; that Germany's rise is in fact civilization's greatest asset.

The coolness with which the author assumes his views to be true, without argument or evidence, takes one's breath away.

War all around is considered with composure: war with England; France overthrown; Belgium conquered; and the balance of power in Europe to be deliberately destroyed. The two chapters on the inevitable naval war with England are of great interest.

The author asserted in this book first issued in 1912, that war between Britain and Germany was inevitable,—that Germany's expansion was being jealously watched by France and England who were determined to thwart it,—that if might is not right it is so alike as to be hardly distinguishable from it,—that the war would make Germany the world power or be her downfall. What Germany thinks of herself in her relations to mankind and other nations is of vital interest to YOU.

ON A FAST TRAIN THROUGH GEORGIA

Is a book that sells on sight, but since you have not seen it we will try to describe it to you. Have you ever been to the theater and laughed at the comedians and vaudeville monologues until you thought your sides would split? And immediately after the show you have been disgusted because you couldn't remember a single joke you heard? If you have—this is the book you want. It was written by one of the most clever comedians on the stage, and, as the stories and jokes are reeled off one after the other, just as you have heard them at the theater, you feel so pleased with yourself you don't know what to do. It is one of the funniest books ever printed. 128 pages, Paper cover.

ST. ELMO

By Augusta J. Evans. The most popular book in America to-day.

The history of this book is remarkable. It was first published nearly 45 years ago, and met with a fair measure of success; but it was not until within the last three years that it achieved special prominence, since which time over half a million copies have been sold. It is hard to account for this wonderful jump into popularity at the present time, except for the fact that the story is one of real merit, and is now doubly recognized as such. It is a mark of signal distinction for the author, to think that she wrote a story so much ahead of the times.

The story is founded upon the never-old theme of love—the pure love of a good woman—and shows the wonders that can be accomplished with and through it, even to the extent of the reclamation of an extremely talented and extraordinary man having a predilection for evil and sin.

No story written in years has aroused the discussion that this book has. Can you afford to miss it? Do you want to keep abreast of the times, and read what other people are talking about? Then buy and read "St. Elmo."

438 pages. Paper covers. Price, 25 cents

It shows you how all the bunco, flim-flam and fake-advertisement games are worked, and is well worth the price.

96 pages. Paper cover. Price, 25 cents

WORLD'S FINGER, THE

By T. W. Hanshew, is the title of the most absorbing detective narrative ever written. One would not surmise from the title that such was the fact; but the closing chapter of the book gives the clue to its meaning: "I swore to my father on his death-bed that The World's Finger should never point to a Davanant as amongst the list of known convicts, and that oath I will keep." One reader writes: "I thought I would read a chapter or two of 'The World's Finger,' to see what it was all about. I soon found out, and it was two o'clock in the morning before I laid the book down, having read it to the end at one sitting. It certainly is a corker."

STORIES AND LETTERS FROM THE TRENCHES

The Most Intense Human Interest in the European War is concerning what those at the front who did the actual fighting, think of the conflict, and what they experienced in the way of hardships and the unusual adventures which show the calibre and character of the contestants. This is vividly depicted in our book containing letters received from soldiers in the field describing many features of the various campaigns. They include missives penned by nobles and members of royal families, high military officials, Socialists, tradesmen, skilled workman, and writers who, in peace, were more expert with the farm-hand's scythe than with the pen that is supposedly mightier, and certainly to them more unwieldy, than the sword. The book contains 120 pages, printed from new large type, illustrated and bound in paper covers. Price, postpaid, 25 cents.

Any of these books mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY'S

BOOKS IN CLOTH BINDING.

When the demand for an author's works continues steadily over a long period of years (over two million of Miss Libbey's books have been sold) there is no gainsaying the fact that such an author is popular, and that her stories must contain the great heart element and love interest that is primarily the moving theme of the universe. Laura Jean Libbey writes such stories. They are told graphically and with brilliancy and power, with action in every chapter, and end charmingly. Wholesome throughout, they are intended to depict only the good and true in life. Miss Libbey believes that woman's happiest time is when she is cherishing the unstudied dream of a noble lover, loyal and brave, with a chivalrous reverence for true womanhood.

The books are printed on the best quality of antique wove book paper, bound in cloth, with beautiful and appropriate colored inlay in ten colors on front cover as per illustration herewith, and would make a handsome gift. They are 7½ x 5 inches in size, and 1¼ inch thick. Each book wrapped separately in coated paper jacket printed in color.

KONSTANTIN THEODOR DUMBA, Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to the United States contains a comprehensive presentation of the political forces and historical developments which led to the initial clash of arms. It offers a graphic description of conditions in Bosnia and Herzegovina, and throws an illuminating light upon the underlying causes of the world-conflict. It gives detailed particulars of the Serajevo trial in which the assassination of the Crown Prince and his consort is proved to have been committed by members of the notorious "Narodna Obdrana" society of Servia, with the guilty fore-knowledge and complicity of the Servian Government and tells why Servia's equivocal note regarding this was not acceptable, making necessary from the Austro-Hungarian standpoint, the declaration of war against Servia which brought on the great European Conflict. The chapter on the greater Russian propaganda is based on confidential and official reports, now made known for the first time. The chapter dealing with economic conditions in Austria-Hungary contains entirely new facts, official and authentic. The book contains 220 pages, size 7 1-2 x 5 inches, substantially bound in cloth. In every man are embodied the spirit of town, luxury-loving, money-grasping, sensual, a-live-in-the-moment kind of instinct, while in direct opposition to this is the spirit of nature, the primitive in us that fights off the weakening results of over civilization, and that strips the truth bare, destroying all the false polish and veneer that so pleases the eyes of the materialist and pleasure seeker. The narrator of this interesting story meets these two struggling giants, renounces his art, so that he can prosper in the money market, later he turns towards truth, and learns the lesson of life. 12mo, cloth bound, price, $1.00.

BLAKELEE'S INDUSTRIAL CYCLOPEDIA,

A READY REFERENCE AND RESERVOIR OF USEFUL INFORMATION.

In this book, by George E. Blakelee, practical mechanic and editor of a farmers' paper, seven hundred and twenty octavo pages are devoted to explaining clearly the easiest, most practical, and best way of doing every kind of work, mechanical and otherwise, that can be of use in or about a city or village home, or on a large or small farm. It not only treats fully of the use and care of tools, and shows how to make and mend an endless variety of useful articles, but also points out how to do thousands of things not requiring tools, such as mixing paints, managing teams, caring for farm stock and poultry, storing hay, grain and vegetables, harvesting a corn crop, caring for furs, leather, lamps and glass articles, butter and cheese making, pork packing, canning, preserving, and the like, without end.

Not only are the mechanic and house-holder thoroughly provided for, but matters of use and interest to the farmer are treated at such length, that there seems to be nothing in the wide range of his multifarious duties that the author has overlooked. The housewife, too, has a department of her own, where, among hundreds of other things, she is taught the mysteries of bleaching and dyeing, the management of all kinds of fabrics; how to make brackets, frames, tidies, rugs, mats and all kinds of knitted and fancy articles; how to beautify her furniture, polish and renew table-ware, make soap, etc., etc. The boys and girls are also fully cared for. The former are shown how they can make their own hand-sleds, cages, traps and snares for birds and animals, row-boats, apparatus for a home gymnasium and the like; while the latter are instructed in making hundreds of those beautiful and useful articles which add so much to the adornment and convenience of home.

The book is a substantial octavo volume of seven hundred and twenty pages, well printed on paper of fine quality, fully illustrated with over two hundred engravings, furnished with a detailed table of contents and copious index, and handsomely bound.

THE WORK OF THE OPEN COURT PUBLISHING COMPANY.

If one asked for a brief description of the work of The Open Court Company, one would probably get the answer that the Company publishes books and articles on Science, Religion, and Philosophy. That is not quite exact; for that describes the ideal to which The Open Court Company is continually striving rather than the actual work it is doing. The ideal is Religion on a firm basis of Science, a Science of Philosophy, and Philosophy of Science: the only path which can lead to this great ideal synthesis is the detailed and careful study of sciences, religions, and philosophies.

It was this ideal that prompted the late Mr. Edward Carl Hegeler of La Salle, Illinois, in the United States of America, to found a Company to publish books with the object of establishing ethics and religion upon a scientific basis. Such ideals are as old as philosophy itself. Among modern philosophies, that founded by Comte tried, probably in the most explicit fashion of all, to found a religion on the basis of positive science; and at one time it appeared likely to have a lasting success. But it is now quite plain that no philosophy which hopes to be permanent can neglect history or put itself into uncritical opposition to the systems that have for centuries expressed some of the dearest and highest aspirations of mankind. It is unprejudiced and fearless historical and critical investigation — non-sectarian in the widest sense — in religion, science and philosophy, that must precede any satisfactory synthesis. This is a great part of the work of The Open Court Company.

In addition to its own publications The Open Court Company carries large lines of books on the following subjects:

Anthropology Ethics Mathematics and Mechanics
Biology Evolution Oriental Literature
Religion — Ancient and Modern for Comparative Study and Biblical Research

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY MAGAZINE

Devoted to the Science of Religion, the Religion of Science, and the Extension of the Religious Parliament Idea

Editor: Dr. Paul Carus

An Unpartisan Organ of Religious, Ethical, Philosophical and Scientific Expression, Contributed to by the Leaders of Science in all Countries, and by the Leaders of Religion of all Denominations

There is no conflict between religion and science, but there is a conflict between scientific truth and religious dogma. Dogmas are symbols which express religious truth in more or less appropriate allegories. They are not the truth itself. A belief in the letter of dogmas indicates indolence and the lack of genuine religion. The old dogmatism must be surrendered and will have to give place to a higher and more religious conception, which from the methods employed is called "The Religion of Science."

The Monist

A QUARTERLY MAGAZINE

Devoted to the Philosophy of Science

Editor: Dr. Paul Carus

The Philosophy of Science is an application of the scientific method to philosophy. It is a systematization of positive facts; it takes experience as its foundation, and uses the formal relations of experience (mathematics, logic, etc.) as its method. All truths form one consistent system and any dualism of irreconcilable statements indicates a problem arising from either faulty reasoning or an insufficient knowledge of facts. Science always implies Monism, i. e., a unitary world-conception.

"The Monist" also discusses the Fundamental Problems of Philosophy in their Relations to all the Practical Religious, Ethical and Sociological Questions of the Day.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

In the U. S., Canada and Mexico, yearly, postpaid, $2.00; foreign postage, 25 cents additional; single copies, 60 cents. In England and the U. P. U., yearly 6s. 6d.; single numbers, 2s. 6d.

An index covering seventeen years of THE MONIST will be sent to any interested reader, desiring to become acquainted with the work and the standing of its contributors.

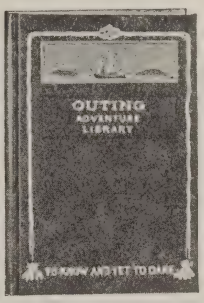
OUTING ADVENTURE LIBRARY



Edited by Horace Kephart

Here are brought together for the first time the great stories of adventure of all ages and countries. These are the personal records of the men who climbed the mountains, penetrated the jungles, explored the seas and crossed the desert; who knew the chances and took them, and lived to write their own tales of hardship, endurance and achievement. The series will consist of an indeterminate number of volumes—for the stories are myriad. The whole will be edited by Horace Kephart. Each volume answers the test of these questions: Is it true? Is it interesting? The entire series is uniform in style and binding. Among the titles now ready or in preparation are those described on the following pages. Price $1.00 each, net. Postage 10 cents extra.

IN THE OLD WEST, by George Frederick Ruxton. The men who blazed the trail across the Rockies to the Pacific were independent trappers and hunters in the days before the Mexican war. They left no records of their adventures and most of them linger now only as shadowy names. But a young Englishman lived among them for a time, saw life from their point of view, trapped with them and fought with them against the Indians. That was George Frederick Ruxton. His story is our only complete picture of the Old West in the days of the real pioneers, of Kit Carson, Jim Bridger, Bill Williams, the Sublettes, and all the rest of that glorious company of the forgotten who opened the West.

CASTAWAYS AND CRUSOES. Since the beginning of navigation men have faced the dangers of shipwreck and starvation. Scattered through the annals of the sea are the stories of those to whom disaster came and the personal records of the way they met it. Some of them are given in this volume, narratives of men who lived by their hands among savages on forlorn coasts, or drifted helpless in open boats. They range from the South Seas to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, from Patagonia to Cuba. They are echoes from the days when the best that could be hoped by the man who went to sea was hardship and man's-sized work.

CAPTIVES AMONG THE INDIANS. First of all is the story of Captain James Smith, who was captured by the Delawares at the time of Braddock's defeat, was adopted into the tribe, and for four years lived as an Indian, hunting with them, studying their habits, and learning their point of view. Then there is the story of Father Bressani who felt the tortures of the Iroquois, of Mary Rowlandson who was among the human spoils of King Philip's war, and of Mercy Harbison who suffered in the red flood that followed St. Clair's defeat. All are personal records made by the actors themselves in those days when the Indian was constantly at our forefather's doors.

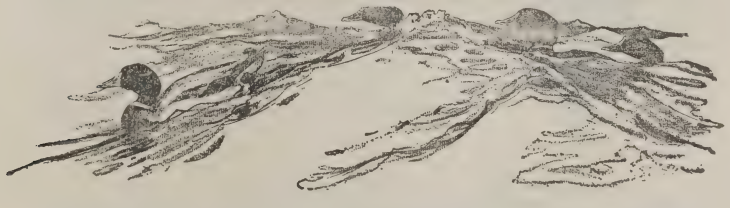
FIRST THROUGH THE GRAND CANYON, by Major John Wesley Powell. Major Powell was an officer in the Union Army who lost an arm at Shiloh. In spite of this, years after the war he organized an expedition which explored the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in boats—the first to make this journey. His story has been lost for years in the oblivion of a scientific report. It is here rescued and presented as a record of one of the great personal exploring feats, fitted to rank with the exploits of Pike, Lewis and Clark, and Mackenzie.

ADRIFT IN THE ARCTIC ICE-PACK, by Dr. Elisha Kent Kane. Dr. Kane was connected with one of the numerous relief expeditions which went north in the middle of the last century, sailing from New York early in the spring of 1849. They found themselves caught in the ice of Lancaster Sound early in the fall and spent the entire winter driving to and fro across the Sound frozen fast in the ice-pack. Dr. Kane's narrative gives the most vivid and accurate account that has ever appeared of ship life during an arctic winter. He contributes many important observations as to ice and weather conditions. His picture of the equipment and provisions makes rather strange reading in the light of our modern development for exploration purposes.

THE LION HUNTER, by Ronalyn Gordon-Cumming. The author was an Englishman who was among the first of the now numerous tribe of sportsmen writers. Going out to South Africa in the early half of the last century he found a hunting field as yet untouched; antelope roamed the plains like cattle on a western range and lions were almost as numerous as coyotes in the old cattle days. In the course of his wanderings with the handful of natives, he penetrated the far interior of Africa and finally encountered Livingston. His account of his experiences with dangerous game armed only with the old-fashioned muzzle-loaded rifles makes the exploits of modern sportsmen seem almost puny in their safety.

HOBART PASHA, by Augustus Charles Hobart-Hampden. Recollections of one of the most remarkable men of the 19th century. He served in the English Navy from 1835-1863, after which he engaged in blockade running in the interest of the Confederacy, in the prosecution of which he had many close shaves but was never caught. He then entered the Turkish navy, built it up and fought against the Russians. The whole book is filled with thrilling adventures and narrow escapes.

LIFE AMONG THE APACHES, by John C. Cremony. He was interpreter of the United States Boundary Commission and served against the Indians as Major of a California regiment during the Civil War. His personal encounters with the Apaches were of the most desperate nature.



ADVENTURES IN MEXICO, by George Frederick Ruxton. This volume describes Ruxton's second visit to America, but this time he landed at Vera Cruz, from where he went to Mexico City and thence north to the American border. Mexico was then at war with the United States, bandits roamed over the country right up to the gates of the capital, and Indians infested the northern part. Still he made the journey of 2,000 miles, often alone, experiencing many exciting adventures.

WILD LIFE IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS, by George Frederick Ruxton. A continuation of Ruxton's ADVENTURES IN MEXICO, from Chihuahua north. In the course of his journey he had to pass through treeless deserts, where he suffered much from lack of water; spent the winter in the Rocky Mountains and finally crossed the United States boundary.

THE GOLD HUNTER, by J. D. Borthwick. He was an English artist who joined the rush of treasurer seekers to California in 1851. It is a lively description of the voyage via Panama, of San Francisco from its days of the bowie-knife and top-boots to its development into an orderly community, of life (and death) in "the diggings" and of the motley gathering of all nationalities in town and camp, their toil, sports, virtues, crimes and shifting fortunes. The book covers the period from 1851-1856.

1. EXERCISE AND HEALTH, by Dr. Woods Hutchinson. Dr. Hutchinson takes the common-sense view that the greatest problem in exercise for most of us is to get enough of the right kind. The greatest error in exercise is not to take enough, and the greatest danger in athletics is in giving them up. He writes in a direct matter-of-fact manner with an avoidance of medical terms, and a strong emphasis on the rational, all-round manner of living that is best calculated to bring a man to a ripe old age with little illness or consciousness of bodily weakness.

43. *READING THE WEATHER, by T. Morris Longstreth. The author gives in detail the various recognized signs for different kinds of weather based primarily on the material worked out by the Government Weather Bureau, gives rules by which the character and duration of storms may be estimated, and gives instructions for sensible use of the barometer. He also gives useful information as to various weather averages for different parts of the country, at different times of the year, and furnishes sound advice for the camper, sportsman, and others who wish to know what they may expect in the weather line.

44. BOXING, by D. C. Hutchison. Practical instruction for men who wish to learn the first steps in the manly art. Mr. Hutchison writes from long personal experience as an amateur boxer and as a trainer of other amateurs. His instructions are accompanied with full diagrams showing the approved blows and guards. He also gives full directions for training for condition without danger of going stale from overtraining. It is essentially a book for the amateur who boxes for sport and exercise.

45. TENNIS TACTICS, by Raymond D. Little. Out of his store of experience as a successful tennis player, Mr. Little has written this practical guide for those who wish to know how real tennis is played. He tells the reader when and how to take the net, discusses the relative merits of the back-court and volleying game and how their proper balance may be achieved; analyzes and appraises the twist service, shows the fundamental necessities of successful doubles play.

46. *HOW TO PLAY TENNIS, by James Burns. This book gives simple, direct instruction from the professional standpoint on the fundamentals of the game. It tells the reader how to hold his racket, how to swing it for the various strokes, how to stand and how to cover the court. These points are illustrated with photographs and diagrams. The author also illustrates the course of the ball in the progress of play and points out the positions of greatest safety and greatest danger.

47. TAXIDERMY, by Leon L. Pray. Illustrated with diagrams. Being a practical taxidermist, the author at once goes into the question of selection of tools and materials for the various stages of skinning, stuffing and mounting. The subjects whose handling is described are, for the most part, the every-day ones, such as ordinary birds, small mammals, etc., although adequate instructions are included for mounting big game specimens, as well as the preliminary care of skins in hot climates. Full diagrams accompany the text.

48. THE CANOE—ITS SELECTION, CARE AND USE, by Robert E. Pinkerton. Illustrated with photographs. With proper use the canoe is one of the safests crafts that floats. Mr. Pinkerton tells how that state of safety may be obtained. He gives full instructions for the selection of the right canoe for each particular purpose or set of conditions. Then he tells how it should be used in order to secure the maximum of safety, comfort and usefulness. His own lesson was learned among the Indians of Canada, where paddling is a high art, and the use of the canoe almost as much a matter of course as the wearing of moccasins.

49. HORSE PACKING, by Charles J. Post. Illustrated with diagrams. This is a complete description of the hitches, knots, and apparatus used in making and carrying loads of various kinds on horseback. Its basis is the methods followed in the West and in the American Army. The diagrams are full and detailed, giving the various hitches and knots at each of the important stages so that even the novice can follow and use them. It is the only book ever published on this subject of which this could be said. Full description is given of the ideal pack animal, as well as a catalogue of the diseases and injuries to which such animals are subject.

51. *LEARNING TO SKATE, by J. F. Verne. The general problem of the art of skating is taken up from the standpoint of the man or woman who puts on skates for the first time. Fundamental rules are laid down for learning the simpler strokes, carrying the reader on through to speed and fancy skating. Advice is included on the proper skates and clothing.

52. *TOURING AFOOT, by Dr. C. P. Fordyce. Illustrated. This book is designed to meet the growing interest in walking trips and covers the whole field of outfit and method for trips of varying length. Various standard camping devices are described and outfits are prescribed for all conditions. It is based on the assumption that the reader will want to carry on his own back everything that he requires for the trip.

53. *THE MARINE MOTOR, by Lieut. Frank W. Sterling, U. S. N. Illustrated with diagrams. This book is the product of a wide experience on the engineering staff of the United States Navy. It gives careful descriptions of the various parts of the marine motor, their relation to the whole and their method of operation; it also describes the commoner troubles and suggests remedies. The principal types of engines are described in detail with diagrams. The object is primarily to give the novice a good working knowledge of his engine, its operation and care.

ALL OUTDOORS. A monthly magazine of the outdoors that is made for outdoor men and women. Short, meaty, to-the-point articles tell the "how" of living and playing in the open—whether hunting, fishing, canoeing, camping, ice boating, skiing, swimming, shooting at the traps, or any other outdoor sport. The adventure stories and fiction are the kind that anyone with red blood likes to read. In addition to the great number of articles and stories in ALL OUTDOORS is a feature that alone makes the magazine worth its price—pictures. The best of outdoor pictures are used to illustrate it. And each picture has a long caption of concise information. ALL OUTDOORS is a magazine that not only radiates the spirit of the woods and fields, streams and rivers, but it tells you how to enjoy all these to the fullest. 15 cents a copy. $1.00 a year.

YACHTING. An illustrated monthly magazine devoted to the interest of the man who loves the water—sailing and motor boating. It is written and edited by practical men who have done the things about which they write, if it be a cruise to Labrador, sailing an ocean race or telling how to put a gasoline engine together. Every subject that it touches, whether it be how to adjust a carburetor, plot a course, handle sails or diagnose a case of balky engine, is authoritative. Under and through all other features of YACHTING is the call of the water—the bracing, irresistible appeal that has drawn men off shore since the first cockle-shell was set afloat. Once you have heard and answered it you will know why a sailor once is a sailor always—and you will know also why YACHTING should interest you. The most beautiful yachtsman's magazine. 15 cents a copy. $1.75 a year.

OUTING. For more than thirty years the OUTING magazine has been the great outdoor publication of America. Its contributors are national experts in their respective fields. Its articles are recognized as the last word on the subject they treat. Its range is comprehensive, covering the entire outdoor realm from gardening to aviation. In every subject that it touches, whether it be fishing, hunting, golfing, college sports, the country home, sailing, automobiling, dogs or horses, its aim is accuracy plus interest. Every number combines the solid value of sober fact with the alluring thrill of mystery and adventure that still beckons us to the out-of-doors. $3.00 a year, 25c. a copy.

Bound Volumes. Two volumes of the OUTING magazine are published each year beginning with the April and October issues. Size, 7⅜x10 inches. Pages more than 750. Bound in olive green cloth, decorative. Price, per volume, $2.00 net. Postage extra 30 cents. Charge for binding copies supplied by subscribers, per volume $1.00.

Birth of Esau and Jacob. GENESIS, 26. Isaac denieth his wife.

nations are in thy womb, and two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels; and the one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.

24 ¶ And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were twins in her womb.

25 And the first came out red, all over like an hairy garment; and they called his name Esau.

26 And after that came his brother out, and his hand took hold on Esau's heel; and his name was called Jacob: and Isaac was threescore years old when she bare them.

27 And the boys grew: and Esau was a cunning hunter, a man of the field; and Jacob was a plain man, dwelling in tents.

28 And Isaac loved Esau, because he did eat of his venison: but Rebekah loved Jacob.

29 ¶ And Jacob sod pottage: and Esau came from the field, and he was faint:

30 And Esau said to Jacob, Feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore was his name called Edom.

31 And Jacob said, Sell me this day thy birthright.

32 And Esau said, Behold, I am at the point to die: and what profit shall this birthright do to me?

33 And Jacob said, Swear to me this day; and he sware unto him: and he sold his birthright unto Jacob.

34 Then Jacob gave Esau bread and pottage of lentiles; and he did eat and drink, and rose up, and went his way: thus Esau despised his birthright.

CHAPTER 26.

1 Isaac because of famine went to Gerar. 2 God instructeth, and blesseth him. 7 He is reproved by Abimelech for denying his wife. 12 He groweth rich. 18 He diggeth Esek, Sitnah, and Rehoboth. 26 Abimelech maketh a covenant with him at Beer-sheba. 34 Esau's wives.

AND there was a famine in the land, beside the first famine that was in the days of Abraham. And Isaac went unto Abimelech king of the Philistines unto Gerar.

2 And the LORD appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Egypt; dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of:

3 Sojourn in this land, and I will be with thee, and will bless thee; for unto thee, and unto thy seed, I will give all these countries, and I will perform the oath which I sware unto Abraham thy father;

4 And I will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these countries; and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed;

5 Because that Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.

6 ¶ And Isaac dwelt in Gerar:

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife; and he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife; lest, said he, the men of the place should kill me for Rebekah; because she was fair to look upon.

8 And it came to pass, when he had been there a long time, that Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out at a window, and saw, and, behold, Isaac was sporting with Rebekah his wife.

9 And Abimelech called Isaac, and said, Behold, of a surety she is thy wife: and how saidst thou, She is my sister? And Isaac said unto him, Because I said, Lest I die for her.

10 And Abimelech said, What is this thou hast done unto us? one of the people might lightly have lien with thy wife, and thou shouldest have brought guiltiness upon us.

11 And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.

12 Then Isaac sowed in that land, and received in the same year an hundredfold: and the LORD blessed him.

13 And the man waxed great, and went forward, and grew until he became very great:

14 For he had possession of flocks, and possession of herds, and great store of servants: and the Philistines envied him.

15 For all the wells which his father's servants had digged in the days of Abraham his father, the Philistines had stopped them, and filled them with earth.

16 And Abimelech said unto Isaac, Go from us; for thou art much mightier than we.

17 ¶ And Isaac departed thence, and pitched his tent in the valley of Gerar, and dwelt there.

18 And Isaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham: and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them.

19 And Isaac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of springing water.

20 And the herdmen of Gerar did strive with Isaac's herdmen, saying, The water is our's: and he called the not: and he called the name of it Rehoboth; and he said, For now the LORD hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land.

23 And he went up from thence to Beer-sheba.

24 And the LORD appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake.

25 And he builded an altar there, and called upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there: and there Isaac's servants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then Abimelech went to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath one of his friends, and Phichol the chief captain of his army.

Christ's sermon ST. MATTHEW 6. on the mount.

CHAPTER 6.

TAKE heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly

5 ¶ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and 16 ¶ Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 ¶ Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!

24 ¶ No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

17 The dead praise not the LORD, neither any that go down into silence.

18 But we will bless the LORD from this time forth and for evermore. Praise the LORD.

PSALM 116.

1 The psalmist professeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance. 12 He studieth to be thankful.

I LOVE the LORD, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications.

2 Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

3 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.

4 Then called I upon the name of the LORD; O LORD, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.

5 Gracious is the LORD, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful.

6 The LORD preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me.

7 Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.

8 For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.

10 I believed, therefore have I spoken: I was greatly afflicted:

PSALM 117.

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy and truth.

O PRAISE the LORD, all ye nations: praise him, all ye people.

PSALM 118.

1 An exhortation to praise God for his mercy. 5 The psalmist by his experience sheweth how good it is to trust in God. 19 Under the type of the psalmist the coming of Christ in his kingdom is expressed.

O GIVE thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: because his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

4 Let them now that fear the LORD say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

5 I called upon the LORD in distress: the LORD answered me, and set me in a large place.

6 The LORD is on my side; I will not fear: what can man do unto me?

7 The LORD taketh my part with them that help me: therefore shall I see my desire upon them that

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die:

5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:

15 And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.

16 Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.

17 And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the David's confidence in God. PSALMS. His manner of blessing God.

2 From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

3 For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy.

4 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will trust in the covert of thy wings. Selah.

6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations.

8 Trust in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.

9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.

OXFORD PICTORIAL PALESTINE BIBLES

The originators of this new Pictorial Bible hope they may claim to fill a want. There are many illustrated Bibles. Some contain copies from the Old Masters, and grand as these pictures are in color and artistic skill, no one would venture to say they are correct either as to place or costume. Other editions contain modern pictures drawn by very capable artists unfamiliar with the East. Some Bibles are full of pictures of supposed occurrences, but to our mind, no legend or tradition should be pictorially represented in a Bible. In this volume neither artist has made any attempt to illustrate by picture the Divine Christ, but to depict existing customs, which throw light on Bible statements. IN THIS BIBLE, THE PICTURES, WHATEVER MERIT OR DEMERIT THEY MAY HAVE, ARE AT LEAST TRUE.

OXFORD REFERENCE BIBLES

(WITHOUT TEACHERS' HELPS)

The specimen below illustrates the features of the references to be found in all Oxford Reference, Concordance, and Teachers' Bibles. In verse 37 will be found a letter [i] next to the word "Thou." In the reference column in the centre under [i] there are four references where a similar thought may be found. In the nineteenth verse, next to the word "penny," is a figure [2]. This guides to a reference under the same figure, which gives the modern equivalent to the Galilean penny. In the 20th verse, next to "superscription," is the figure [3], which guides to an alternative reading in the reference column.

Much light is thrown on many difficult passages by using the references connected with them; in fact, there is no more fruitful method of "searching the Scriptures" than by following out various thoughts by this system.

Specimen of Oxford References

wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?
19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a [2]penny.
20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and [3] superscription?
21 They say unto him, Cǣ'-sär's. Then saith he unto them, [k] Render therefore unto Cǣ'-sär the things

[i] Deut. 6. 5. & 10. 12. & 30. 6. Luke 10. 27.

[3] or, inscription

[k] ch. 17. 25. Rom. 13. 7.
[l] Lev. 19. 18.

37 Jē'-sŭs said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.
38 This is the first and great commandment.
39 And the second is like unto it, [l] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

This pyramid was made by placing on top of each other one of each distinctive style of Oxford Bible which has been issued. Each of them can be had in a number of sizes of type and styles of binding, so these fifteen books really correspond to over 500 different numbers.

Early in the seventeenth century the Oxford Press began making Bibles, and has continued doing so to this time, making it the oldest publishing house in existence. Over 1,000,000 copies of the Oxford Bible are produced every year, not to mention Testaments and Prayer Books and Hymnals.

A Marvellous Improvement in Teachers' Bibles

AN ENTIRELY NEW SERIES OF

Oxford Teachers' Bibles

With New and Up-to-Date Helps, Arranged Under One Alphabet

The Only Teachers' Bible made with 20th Century Helps

Being a Practical Bible Dictionary, Including Index, Concordance, Glossary, Weights, Measures, Coins, Botany, Etc., Etc.

ARRANGED UNDER ONE ALPHABET

With New Illustrations

Reviews of the New Oxford Editions

"The Oxford University Press is always in the front line of improvement. It gradually added to the helps published in connection with their Bibles, till there were forty-seven alphabetical lists. These have been rearranged under one alphabetical arrangement, with changes bringing it up to date, and entitled The Cyclopedic Concordance. . . . They are the most complete and best arranged of all the helps in various Bibles."—The Intermediate Sunday School Quarterly.

"The new Bible just published by the Oxford Press is, without doubt, the finest product of the kind ever given to the public."—The Christian Advocate.

"As nearly a perfect Teachers' Bible as could well be made."—The Southern Christian Advocate.

"The Oxford Helps are a mine of information"

Oxford Teachers' Bibles

NOTE

THE HELPS in this new Series of Teachers' Bibles have been thoroughly revised by English and American scholars, so as to embody the results of the most recent researches. For the greater convenience of teacher and student the information given in the forty-seven alphabetical lists of the Helps has been rearranged in a single alphabetical order, so that any subject about which information is required may be instantly found in its proper alphabetical place, without the necessity of reference to an index, or of search in a table of contents.

But though the arrangement is that of a Dictionary, the CYCLOPEDIC HELPS are much more than a word-book, for many of the cyclopedic articles of the Helps are included, each in its alphabetical place, and wherever it is necessary cross references to these are given under the more special entries. For instance, each weight, measure, and coin is entered in its own place in the general alphabetical order, and under each entry a reference is given to the general articles, such as Weights, Measures, or Coins, in which further information will be found. Of the illustrations, some have been taken from the "Bible Illustrations" which have appeared in recent issues of the Oxford Helps, and nothing has been included that is not authentic beyond all possibility of doubt. The pictures of scenes in Bible Lands are from photographs recently taken by M. Bonfils, and are reproduced with his permission. A new series of maps, fifteen in all, is included in the volume.

These new Helps doubly strengthen the position which the OXFORD TEACHERS' BIBLE has always held as

"The Bible par excellence of the World"

14 [h] I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the [k] Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

NOTE ON THE MARKINGS

It is claimed for this book that it goes further in this direction than any previous book, and that it also indicates the pronunciation of certain other words, such as "leviathan," "homer," "cherub," etc., which cannot be called proper names, but which might present difficulties to an unskilled reader

The Philistines I. SAMUEL, 6. send back the ark.

And they answered, Let the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl be carried about unto Găth. And they carried the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl about thither.

9 And it was so, that, after they had carried it about, [c]the hand of the LORD was against the city [d]with a very great destruction: and [f]he smote the men of the city, both small and great, and they had emerods in their secret parts.

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the ark of God to Ĕk'-rŏn. And it came to pass, as the ark of God came to Ĕk'-rŏn, that the Ĕk'-rŏn-ītes cried out, saying, They have brought about the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl to [4]us, to slay us and our people.

11 So they sent and gathered together all the lords of the Phĭl'-ĭs-tīnes, and said, Send away the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl, and let it go again to his own place, that it slay [6]us not, and

7 Now therefore make [e]a new cart, and take two milch kine, [g]on which there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring their calves home from them:

and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?
46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.
47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?
48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?
49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.
50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,)
51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth?
52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

CHAPTER 8.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.
2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.
3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,
4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.
5 Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?
6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.
7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.
8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.
9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.
10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman,

THE MARKED NEW TESTAMENT

The Selection of Texts has been examined and approved by leading Bible students of different denominations, including Episcopalians, Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Friends, who reported as follows:

"We are of opinion that the Marked Testament will be very helpful in mission work, and to mission workers. Having examined the texts selected for marking, we consider that they are judiciously chosen for the purpose, and are not likely to give rise to controversy."

Christians obliged ROMANS, 6. to holiness.

19 For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.
20 Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:

11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.
12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

THE COMPANION BIBLE

THE COMPANION BIBLE

Being the Authorized Version of 1611 with THE STRUCTURES and Notes, Critical, Explanatory, and Suggestive. In Six Parts. (Parts I–V now ready)
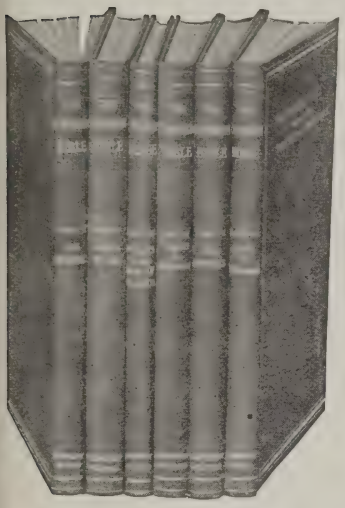
Part VI in the press



It is called "The Companion Bible" because its wide Margin is intended to be a Companion to the Text; and the whole is designed to be the Companion of all readers of the Bible.

The Structures are not mere Analyses evolved from the Text by human ingenuity but are a Symmetrical Exhibition of the Word itself, which may be discerned by the humblest reader of the Sacred Text; and seen to be one of the most important evidences of the Divine Inspiration of its words.

These Structures constitute a remarkable phenomenon peculiar to Divine Revelation; and found in no other form of known literature outside the Sacred Text.

The structure of each book of the Bible is given at the beginning of each book, and all the succeeding structures are the expansion of this. Each structure is referred back to the page containing the larger member, of which it is an expansion or development. The large members, forming a telescopic view of the whole book, are thus expanded, divided and subdivided, until chapters and paragraphs and even verses and sentences, are seen to form part of a wondrous whole, giving a microscopic view of its manifold details.

Part I. Pentateuch, with 52 Appendixes. 363 pages.
Part II. Joshua to Job, with 10 Appendixes. 440 pages.
Part III. Psalms to the Song of Solomon, with 14 Appendixes. 234 pages.
Part IV. Isaiah to Malachi, with 16 Appendixes. 393 pages.
Part V. The Gospels, with 85 Appendixes. 200 pages.

"After mature reflection it was determined to use the Authorized Version. None of the many Revisions have commended themselves to the public at large. The Revised Version, which has now been before the public for twenty-seven years, gives no indication of becoming in any general sense the people's Bible of the English-speaking world. Such emendations of the text as scholarship demands have been placed in the margins of this edition, which therefore combines the dignity, the high religious value, the tender associations of the past, the literary beauty and remarkable general accuracy of the Authorized Version, with the results of the best textual scholarship."

FEATURES OF THE SCOFIELD REFERENCE BIBLE

1. All the great words of Scripture are clearly defined.
2. Chain references, with final summaries, cover all the great topics of Scripture.
3. Every book has an introduction and analysis, thus facilitating Book study—the true method of Bible study.
4. Helps at the hard places.
5. Apparent contradictions reconciled and explained.
6. The types are explained and illustrated by N. T. references.
7. The Greater Covenants are analyzed and explained. All Scriptures gather around these covenants.
8. The prophecies are harmonized, thus becoming self-explanatory.
9. The text is the Authorized, or King James Version, with emendations in the margin where needed.
10. Type: black-faced, imported Clarendon.
11. Paper: the famous Oxford White and India Papers.

CHAPTER 4.

(4) Justification by faith illustrated.

WHAT shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2 For if Abraham were [a]justified by [1]works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.

3 For what saith the scripture? Abraham [b]believed [c]God, and it was [d]counted unto him for [e]righteousness.

4 Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of [f]grace, but of debt.

(5) Justifying faith defined. (See also vs. 18–21.)

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his [g]faith is [d]counted for righteousness.

6 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God [d]imputeth righteousness without works,

7 Saying, Blessed are they whose [h]iniquities are [i]forgiven, and whose [h]sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the [j]Lord will not [d]impute sin.

(6) Justification is apart from ordinances.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be [d]imputed unto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

[a] Justification. Rom. 5. 1, 9. (Lk. 18. 14; Rom. 3. 28.)

[b] Faith. Rom. 5. 1, 2. (Gen. 3. 20; Heb. 11. 39.)

[c] Jehovah. Gen. 15. 6.

[d] Or, reckoned, or imputed, i.e. put to the account of. See Phm. 18, same word.

[e] Righteousness. vs. 5, 6, 9, 11, 13, 22. See Rom. 3. 22, note.

[f] Grace (in salv.). vs. 4, 5, 16; Rom. 5. 2, 15–21. (Rom. 3. 24; John 1. 17.)

[g] Faith. Rom. 4. 16. (Gen. 3. 20; Heb. 11. 39.)

[h] Sin. Rom. 3. 23, note.

[i] Forgiveness. 2 Cor. 2. 7–10. (Lev. 4. 20; Mt. 26. 28.)

[j] Jehovah. vs. 7, 8; Psa. 32. 12.

[k] i.e. earth.

[l] Law (of Moses), vs. 13–16; Rom. 5. 13, 20. (Ex. 19. 1; Gal. 3. 1–25.)

[m] Gen. 15. 5.

[n] i.e. reckoned.

[o] Imputation. vs. 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 23, 24; Rom. 5. 13. (Lev. 25. 50; Jas. 2. 23.)

(7) Justification is apart from the law.

13 For the promise, that he should be the heir of the [k]world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no [h]transgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the [l]law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations; according to that which was spoken, [m]So shall thy seed be.

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:

20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was [d]imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was [n]imputed to him;

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be [o]imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;

25 Who was delivered for our

[1] Cf. Jas. ii. 24. These are two aspects of one truth. Paul speaks of that which justifies man before God, viz. faith alone, wholly apart from works; James of the proof before men, that he who professes to have justifying faith really has it. Paul speaks of what God sees—faith; James of what men see—works, as the visible evidence of faith. Paul draws his illustration from Gen. xv. 6; James from Gen. xxii. 1–19. James' key-phrase is "ye see" (Jas. ii. 24), for men cannot see faith except as manifested through works.

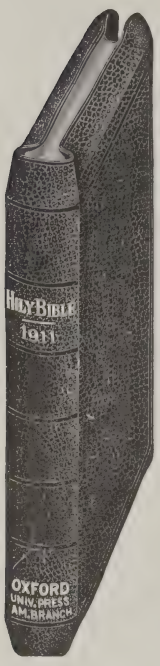
"At last a Bible has been produced which has met with unusual favor"

THE HERALD AND PRESBYTER, September 13, 1911:
"We believe, unqualifiedly, that the 1911 Bible is far the best translation ever given the English-speaking people, and the worthiest of their confidence and affection."



THE 1911 BIBLE

Being the Authorized Version of 1611, with the Text Carefully Amended by American Scholars

OTHER FEATURES

- A New System of Chain References
- A New System of Collected References
- A New System of Paragraphs
- The Old Familiar Verse Form Retained

Beautifully printed on Fine White and the Famous Oxford India Papers, with Oxford Brevier Black-faced Type

The Distinctive Features of the Present Edition Are:

I. A text which has been carefully corrected, in the light of the best modern research, by eminent American scholars.

II. The familiar verse form has been retained.

III. A new method of paragraphing. All readers of the Bible know the importance of observing the paragraphs. These, obscured in part by the division of the text into verses, are in the present edition brought into great distinctness by simply leaving a narrow blank space between the paragraphs, so that the verses that make up any paragraph are slightly separated from the group of verses composing the preceding and the following paragraphs. It is surprising to how great a degree the interest of the reader is aroused and held by this simple expedient.

IV. A system of chain references, specially prepared by Rev. C. I. Scofield, D.D., Editor of the Scofield Reference Bible, tracing through the whole Bible the greater themes of the Divine revelation from their first clear emergence to the final and complete form in the New Testament. This will be found of especial value to students of the Bible.

V. A new collected-reference system, the plan of which is to concentrate at the passage where a word is used in its most characteristic sense, the more important occurrences of that word elsewhere in the Bible. At all other places where the word occurs there is a reference to the central passage. No other reference plan so facilitates the illustration of Scripture by Scripture.

VI. The Oxford Black-faced Type has been used, making the page clear and legible. All readers of the Bible will appreciate the ease with which this type can be read.

VII. Beautifully printed on Fine White and the famous Oxford India Papers. No other paper can compare with the Oxford India Paper in its wonderful opacity. Although it is the thinnest paper used for printing, the impression does not show through to the other side, and it is so strong that it can be used for years without showing signs of wear.

MORNING PRAYER. 9

Through the tender mercy of our God : whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us;

To give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death : and to guide our feet into the way of peace.

Jubilate Deo. Psalm c.

O BE joyful in the LORD, all ye lands : serve the LORD with gladness, and come before his presence with a song.

Be ye sure that the LORD he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves : we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise : be thankful unto him, and speak good of his Name.

For the LORD is gracious, his mercy is everlasting : and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

4 Soon shall end the time of weeping,
Soon the reaping time will come;
Heaven and earth together keeping
God's eternal Harvest Home.
Saints and angels
Shout the world's great Harvest Home.

251 L. M.

LOOK from Thy sphere of endless day,
O God of mercy and of might!
In pity look on those who stray,
Benighted in this land of light.

2 In peopled vale, in lonely glen,
In crowded mart, by stream or sea,
How many of the sons of men
Hear not the message sent from Thee!

3 Send forth Thy heralds, Lord, to call
The thoughtless young, the hardened old,
A scattered, homeless flock, till all
Be gathered to Thy peaceful fold.

4 Send them Thy mighty word to speak,
Till faith shall dawn and doubt depart,
To awe the bold, to stay the weak,
And bind and heal the broken heart.

5 Then all these wastes, a dreary scene
That makes us sadden as we gaze,
Shall grow with living waters green,
And lift to heaven the voice of praise.

252 7.6.

THE morning light is breaking;
The darkness disappears;
The sons of earth are waking
To penitential tears;

Special attention invited to the superbly printed "Oxford India Paper" Editions of Prayer Books and Hymnals.

The Oxford India Paper is a specialty of the Oxford Press, and is manufactured at the paper-mills of the Oxford University Press.

A distinguishing characteristic of the Oxford India Paper as compared with all so-called India Paper is that the impression on one side does not show through when the other side is being read.

A strip of this paper, only three inches in breadth, has been tested and found able to support a quarter of a hundredweight without yielding—a decisive proof of its exceeding toughness and durability.

The wonderful lightness of these books, the exceedingly clear type, the strength and excellence of binding, combine to place them far in advance of any book hitherto issued.

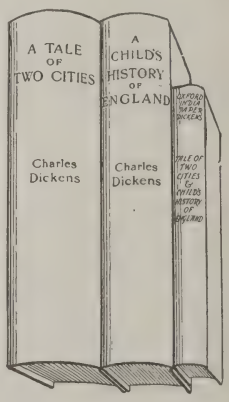
56 THE PICKWICK CLUB

"Gentleman in the coffee-room, sir," replied the Boots, as Mr. Winkle opened the door, and confronted him; "gentleman says he'll not detain you a moment, sir, but he can take no denial."

"Very odd!" said Mr Winkle; "I'll be down directly."

He hurriedly wrapped himself in a travelling-shawl and dressing-gown, and proceeded down-stairs. An old woman and a couple of waiters were cleaning the coffee-room, and an officer in undress uniform was looking out of the window. He turned round as Mr. Winkle entered, and made a stiff inclination of the head. Having ordered the attendants to retire, and closed the door very carefully, he said, "Mr. Winkle, I presume?"



With nearly 700 Illustrations by Cruikshank, "Phiz," etc.
In Twenty Volumes. Each Volume can be obtained separately

Includes all the additional stories and sketches which appear in the GADSHILL and AUTHENTIC EDITIONS. In addition to some PORTRAITS OF CHARLES DICKENS, upwards of SIX HUNDRED ILLUSTRATIONS will be given, being reproductions from the originals by Seymour, "Phiz," George Cruikshank, F. Walker, Sir Edward Landseer, R.A., D. Maclise, R.A., John Leech, Marcus Stone, George Cattermole, S. Luke Fildes, R.A., C. Stanfield, R.A., J. OXFORD TEACHERS' BIBLES

PAPER, PRINTING, HELPS, ILLUSTRATIONS

IN ADVANCE OF ALL OTHERS

"Since 1880 the Oxford Teachers' Bible has been acknowledged the greatest book marvel of modern times. The publishers have just brought out an edition with revised Helps which again puts this work clearly in advance of all others." —Sunday-School Magazine.

THE PAPER

"The India paper, in which we believe this company leads the world, has made a revolution in the art of printing."—The Living Church.

No other paper has yet been made that can approach it for its wonderful opacity, great toughness and softness, and its agreeable tone, nor for the ease with which

THE PAGES CAN BE TURNED

A distinguishing characteristic of the Oxford India paper, as compared with all so-called India paper, is that the impression on one side does not show through when the other side is being read.

THE PRINTING

"Its letterpress is remarkably clear and distinct. This is appreciated the more because it is uncommon in Bibles. Long and close attention to the print of ordinary Bibles strains the strongest eyes, but the Oxford is not an ordinary Bible in this or in any other respect."—The Christian Nation.

THE HELPS

Rev. F. N. Peloubet, D.D., Author of "Peloubet's Notes on the International Lessons," says:

"I have been comparing the two editions of the Oxford Helps, your new one with mine dated 1893. Your appendix, and especially the new plates, and more especially the descriptions of them, which are a wholly new feature, add greatly to the value of these Helps. I shall refer to them as often as I can in my 'Notes on the Lessons.' "

The Christian Advocate, Nashville, Tenn.

"The Helps are real helps. Unlike those in many of the cheap Bibles, they are not simply thrown together in hodge-podge fashion, but represent the freshest and ablest work of the foremost modern scholars."

The Interior, Chicago, Ill.

"Helps prepared for this work by the most eminent Biblical scholars of the day, and revised up to the latest possible date, to keep in touch with the last discoveries of science, the last lights of interpretation. This edition has reached, in former issues, a sale of over two million copies, and it is safe to say that nothing offers even fair competition with it in general favor."

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

The Sunday-School Times

Referring to the illustrations:—"In this department this Bible is probably far superior to any other of those commonly called Teachers' Bibles. Probably there does not exist another equally compact collection of the kind."
